WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, Nov. 27, 1893

Mr. Cleveland's determination to combine in his own person the functions of both the legislative and executive branches of the government was never more plainly shown than by the new tariff bill, which is a far more radical measure than it was generally expected to be. Mr. Cleveland has actually compelled democratic members of the House Ways and Means committee to vote to put articles on the free list against the protest of their democratic constituents and with the full knowledge that such action would bring want to many people in their districts and states. This may seem a strong assertion, but it is not exaggerated in the slightest degree. How has Mr. Cleveland obtained sufficient control over democratic members of the House to compell them to vote away the welfare of their friends and constituents? The answer is easy. He has done it by the use of patronage and promises; he has given them petty offices for their personal followers and has promised them that if they fail to get renominated and elected to the Fifty-Fourth Congress he will provide for them personally—chairman Wilson, of the committee on Ways and Means, who has betrayed two of the greatest industries of West Virginia, by allowing coal and iron ore to be placed on the free list. is understood to have been promised a lifetime position on the bench of the U. S. Circuit or District Court as a reward for his treachery to the interests of his State and people. The same policy is to be carried out to get votes for the Cleveland tariff bill—it is a misnomer to call it by anybody else's name—in the House, and will probably succeed as well as with the committee.

But when it comes to the Senate those tactics will not necessarily succeed. The average Senator is always more independent than a Member of the House. His term is six years and, if he has lately been elected, will extend beyond that of the President, so that he does not feel that he has any need of being "taken care of" by the administration in case his action or vote is unsatisfactory to his constituents. There is not the slightest expectation that the Senate will pass the tariff bill as it is now even if Mr. Cleveland succeeds in his announced intention to railroad it through the House, although, looking at the matter from a purely political standpoint, it would be the best thing that could happen for the republican party for it to become a law just as it now is, but it would be a great hardship on the wage earners of the country; consequently republicans will try to defeat it, or in any event to have it amended in many respects.

Among the long list of articles placed on the free list by the new bill are the following; wool, iron ore, coal, pig tin, hemp, flax, jute, silver, lead ore, copper, salt, crude borax, binding twine, cotton ties, and lumber not advanced in preparation beyond sawing. The cut on articles left on the dutiable list is deep and will probably average somewhere about forty per-cent.

No news is expected from Hawaii, unless it be secured by a special steamer sent by some enterprising news paper, before December 11. The administration would very gladly crawl out of the unpleasant hole in which it finds itself, but as it can not its members pretend an indifference they are form feeling. Secretary Gresham is trying to sneak out by telling his personal friends that Mr. Cleveland had determined to restore the queen before he was sworn in and that Blount's instructions were prepared in the White House and given to him by Mr. Cleveland, and that he (Gresham) had nothing whatever to do with shaping the Hawaiian policy, But even while trying to do the sneak act he has proven his complicity in what will be regarded by posterity as one of the most dastardly state crimes in American history by ransacking the State Department record and giving out for publication in administration newspapers isolated letters which seem to bear ont his theory, or, as he claims, Mr. Cleveland's theory, that the Harrison administration had knowledge of the intention to overthrow the queen long before that event took place.

Just why the administration thinks that its position would be completely vindicated if this fact were proven is more than I can see. It is probable that nine intelligent citizens out of every ten would say that this government did exactly what was right if it had actually dethroned the queen, as Mr. Cleveland would like the country to believe.

Not satisfied with controlling the Congressmen now in office Mr. Cleveland has entered into a conspiracy with Messrs Harrity, Quincy and Dickinson, of the Democratic National Committee to control of every democrat who runs for the House of the Fifty-Fourth Congress, through the machinery of the national committee, which is to open headquarters here solely for that purpose. The democratic Congressmen had just "got onto" this conspiracy and those who are anti-Cleveland are making dire threats about what they propose doing, not only to secure their renomination, but to get even with Mr. Cleveland.

TAXES AND TEMPERANCE.

A communication addressed to the committee of ways and means from the Women's Christian Temperance Union urges the imposition of a tax of $1.50 a gallon "on the giant enemy, whiskey," the writers assuming that an increased tax upon whisky would diminish its use. This is at least doubtful. Experience has shown that an excessive tax of this kind only encourages evasion of the revenue laws and the establishment of illicit distilleries, whose influence, especially in the remote country, is much worse than that of licensed taverns.

The taxing power of the United States is not employed for purposes of moral reform, but for purposes of revenue, and it is the duty of those who regulate the tax laws to ascertain as closely as possible what rate of tax may be levied on any given article with the greatest public advantage, taking into consideration all the conditions and circumstances involved. It has been found from the results of some thirty years under the present system that a dollar a gallon is about as heavy a tax as can be advantageously levied on whisky, not because a higher tax increases the cost to the consumer—who would only get a poorer quality for the same money—but because it makes it worth while to attempt to get whisky upon the market without paying any tax at all.

There is also the very important consideration that it is impossible to discriminate exactly between distilled spirits intended for different uses and that the internal revenue tax is already a serious burden upon a great many useful branches of manufacture, including the preparation of medicines. All these things have to be remembered when it is proposed to put down "the giant enemy" by taxation.

The committee of ways and means is likely to recommend an advance of the whisky tax from ninety cents to one dollar a gallon, which would give an important addition to the revenues without any material effect upon the business. Beyond this it probably would not be wise to go. As a matter of fact, the use of whisky is diminishing in this country in proportion to population, but that is largely to the improvement in the manufacture of malt liquors, which has led to their more general use, as well as to a general improvement in the habits of our people. It is enough if the tax laws do nothing to hinder this advance.

THE WATER STREET MUDDLE.

In our news columns to-day will be found the action of borough council regarding this bit of improvement which, there is no doubt, were it successfully done, would show a marked degree of enterprise and a desire to keep up with the times.

North Water street has always been regarded as an eye sore to those who have been compelled to travel it. Never in good condition for vehicle or pedestrians; always dangerous after sundown, it is the only street of its kind in Bellefonte. Heretofore there really was no call for any great and violent change of it, but now, that it is soon destined to become one of the main thoroughfares of Bellefonte, it should receive the same degree of consideration from the borough legislators that High street or Allegheny would were they in the condition of North Water street.

It is an absolute necessity that a boardwalk should be put down on that street from High street to Lamb street. The council admits this fact, but it is divided on where it should go—which necessarily carries with it, who would bear the expense of putting it down. If the boardwalk goes on the east side of the street, then the property owners can be compelled to put it down; but, if on the west side, then the borough must bear the expense. James Harris, Esq., offered to put down the 670 feet of walk, which would be from High street to connect with the walk that the railroad company would put on their own property, for $160. He also agreed to give a guarantee to keep 400 feet of this amount in good repair and clear of snow in winter time. This certainly seems like a small expense to the borough, especially when it was demanded by three-fourths of the business men and tax payers of the town; but the Street Committee took the position that it would be an expense of fully five hundred dollars to grade the street and put it in good repair, and they thought this was as much as they could afford to spend on that street at this time.

We have thus far omitted to mention the fact of Mr. Thomas Orbison's arrival in this place last Saturday. Tom. is a genial, good fellow, and his friends are all glad to see him.

A PRAYER TO CLEVELAND.

A Colorado Democratic Convention Offers Him an Invocation.

A recent copy of The Gunnison (Co) Tribune has the following invocation to Cleveland. It illustrates how the silver Democrats of that state mingle their humor with their sarcasm in their contempt of the gold standard apostle:

"Previous to the close of the Democratic county convention last Tuesday, Edward Coko, mayor of Irwin, arose and all the delegates reverently bowed their heads while he offered prayer to Almighty Cleveland. The voice was filled with emotion and the reporter found it difficult to get every word. But here it is:

"Oh, almighty and all-powerful Cleveland, who art in Washington, when not fishing; thou who art the father of Ruth and Ruth's sister, and the god father of the Democratic party (its here), we hail thy name as the great political prophet of the century. We bow down before thee in humble political obedience. When thou sayest go, we go; when thou sayest come, we come. We have no desire but to save thee. If thou sayest black is white we will swear to it and lick the everlasting stuffing out of the man who disputes it. When thou takest snuff we will sneeze; when thou sayest free silver we will echo thy words; when thou sayest gold then gold it is. We are Democrats after the improved modern type. Our business is to vote the ticket and vote'er straight. What is it to us whether we have free silver or not? We are but dogs that eat of the crumbs that fell from our masters' tables. When the crumbs fall we wag our tails; when they fall fast we wag faster; when they don't fall we stand and wait until they do. This is Democracy. This is the kind of Democracy when elected thee, our great and almighty Cleveland. Oh, most adored master, we love thee for what thou hast not done for us. We love thee because thou art Cleveland. We humbly surrender ourselves to thee. Do with us as thou wilt. Though wheat is but 40 cents a bushel we love thee; though cotton is low we love thee; though business is dull we love thee; though thousands, millions are out of employment we love thee; though our children are clothed in rags we love thee; though our wife, the dear companion of our bosom, is scantily dressed and looks so shabby she can't go to church we love thee; though we are sinking deeper in debt and poverty is knocking at the door, and hunger is staring us in the face, we love thee still. This shows our great faith and love for thee. Our wives and childern we are willing to sacrifice, even as the Hindoo mother sacrifices her off-spring by throwing it under the crushing wheels of the juggernaut. Oh, mighty Cleveland, words cannot express our love for thee. We love our party, too. What care we about the many promises it made. We know it promised free silver, and we know it won't give it to us, but we will stick to the party. We know we said if it did not do the things it promised to do we should leave it, but we died when we said it. We thought then we had some manhood about us, but we ain't. We have no independence. Thou, oh mighty Cleveland, hast all the manhood and independence in the party. We are fools, liars, lickspittles, mudsills. We have no business to want anything or to say anything. Last year we favored free silver, and now we have to oppose it. We favored it then because we thought it was right. We oppose it now, most adorned master, because thou tellest us to. Ain't we a honey of the first water? Did ever dog serve his master more faithfully? Did ever a dog get less for it? Oh, mighty master, we are ever ready to serve thee and party. All the pay we ask is to be patted on the back by some local politician and called a good Democrat. We ain't got any sense. We don't want any, only enough to vote the ticket. It don't take any sense to be a good Democrat. What a joyful thought! We don't have to think. We don't have to worry. Our work is all mapped out for us. All that is expected is to do what we are told to do. We thank thee, oh Cleveland, that we are Democrats. We thank thee for the panic. We thank thee for the hungry and idle men and women in the land. We thank thee for low prices. We thank thee for the banks that have busted and the thousands of business failures since thou hast come into power. We thank thee for the hard times. We thank thee for the rags our children wear. We thank thee for the clothes our wife needs and can't get. We thank thee for what thou hast done for the banker and what thou hast not done for the people. We thank thee for all these things because it is our duty as a good Democrat to do so. It may be "against the grain," but we will take our medicine. We will work our wives to death, starve our children, sacrifice our homes, crucify liberty and kill prosperity, but will never go back on our dear old party, and on thee, our most adored Cleveland. Thou art of more account than all of us put together. Thou knowest more than the south and west. Call us fools; spit in our faces; wipe your feet on us; we will love thee all the more. And now our great political father we leave us in thy care. Do with us as thou wilt Kick silver into the middle of the next country; give more privileges to the national banks; issue more bonds; preserve the McKinley bill; establish state banks; foster trusts; bribe congressmen with patronage; fish whenever thou wilt, and hunt snipe whenever thou carest to, and we will endorse everything thou doest, carry Cleveland roosters, campaign torches and forever more sing they prise. Amen."

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Why We Should Give Thanks and What For.

The custom of appointing an annual Thanksgiving Day has become entrenched in American life. The republic was founded by men who were swayed by strong religious convictions and during its entire history its rulers and nine-tenths of its people have acknowledged their dependence upon and obligations to the Almighty Ruler whose providence establishes or destroys worlds and nations. Thanksgiving Day is simply the public and personal expression of the nation's religious belief, as well as of the duty of thankfulness for the blessings which have come to us as a nation and as individuals. The duty of constant gratitude is imperative, and in that sense every day should be one of thanks, but it is fitting that one day in the year should be set apart by the executive authority as a time when the people may assemble in their places of worship and in their homes and return thanks for the mercies of the year. It is the national manifestation of belief in the Infinite.

The year has been one of severe trial to many. The bank panic and the industrial depression have borne heavily upon many, and there has been wide-spread apprehension and no little suffering. That which has happened, however, has been largely the result of our own recklessness and folly, pursued through a long series of years, and we have reason to be devoutly thankful that the situation is no worse, that we have apparently reached the bottom and that all the indications now favor a gradual but certain improvement. Hard as is the present condition, we are still much better off than our brethren in Europe, not to mention other sections of the globe, and we see signs of renewed activity while their condition is well-nigh hopeless. With their dense populations, their immense armies, their crushing debts, their unequal laws, their class distinctions, they have a gloomy outlook, while our new and sparsely settled country, with an energetic and progressive people, all of whom have equal opportunities, has a glorious future before it.

We have brought to a successful conclusion this year the most complete exposition ever held in any land. The results of the exhibition, as well as the influence of the various congresses held, cannot be estimated. We have been preserved from the threatened invasion of cholera and the yellow fever scourge has been confined to one locality. Our crops have been abundant, and while prices are low, yet they are no lower here than elsewhere, and we have advantages that no other nation possesses. We have made an end of the financial folly that has been a part of our national policy for the last thirteen years, and that is something for which every citizen ought to be profoundly thankful. In several notable instances the people have manifested that they are to be trusted and that popular sovereignity is not a failure. There is every reason why this republic should heartily observe Thanksgiving Day, for our national blessings have far exceeded our afflictions.

A PREACHER WITH MUSCLE.

The Philipsburg Ledger says Rev. Hugh Strain, the young pastor of the Morrisdale circuit is the right sort. He insists on having perfect order at his meetings and a big burly fellow who had taken a dislike to young Strain bragged that he was going to his church some night and kick up a rumpus purposely to get a chance to flog him. The ruffian went and created his little disturbance. Mr. Strain went to him and kindly asked him to keep quiet. The big fellow sneered at him and kept up his racket. The young preacher went to him again and told him he must keep quiet or go out. The big fellow said he wouldn't keep quiet nor go out, and the first thing he knew the young parson's hand was on his collar, and the next thing anybody knew, the ruffian was sprawling in the road, and he didn't go back after any more of that medicine either. Young Strain might have preached till his teeth fell out and not won half the esteem and admiration among the miners as that little exhibition of courage and muscle aroused.

MORE AND MORE INFAMOUS!

The more the conspiracy in which Grover Cleveland, Walter Q. Gresham and Claus Spreckle are engaged for the overthrow of a republican government in Hawaii and the restoration of a degraded and disreputable monarchy is laid bare, the more monstrous it appears, and the more readily it is understood why Cleveland shrank from revealing to Congress the secret of this infamous and unconstitutional course. It is now developed that, while a partriotic American naval officer, Admiral Skerrett, was removed from command at Honolulu on the pretext that his friendly relations with members of the Provisional Government might influence him in the performance of his duty, Admiral Irwin, selected by Cleveland to assume command in Skerrett's place, is the brother of Robert Irwin, Hawaiian Minister and Immigration Commissioner in Japan, who has made large profits out of supplying Japanese coolies to Hawaiian planters. It does not follow that Admiral Irwin would be influenced by the relationship to depart from the line of duty, although the restoration of the monarchy would be a great advantage to the coolie trade, to which annexation, on the other hand, would be a death blow. But the selection of Irwin shows that Cleveland did not object to the Admiral at Honolulu being an interested party, provided his interests were on the side of monarchy, His only objection was to Americanism.

Let us recapitulate this shameful page in American history, so far as it is unfolded. A degraded and dissolute queen, whose position as the ruler of a civilized state was an offense to the enlightenment, the aspirations and the achievements of the nineteenth century, made a revolutionary attempt to overthrow the constitution by virtre of which she occupied her throne, and to substitute despotism in the place of a limited and constitutional monarchy. The substantial and respectable residents of Honolulu, led chiefly by men of American descent, and whose kinship every decent American is proud to acknowledge, rose against the attempted usurpation and drove the would be usurper from the throne which she had forfeited. just as Charles I. and James II. forfeited the crown of England, and they established a commonwealth, under a Provisional Government. Many hours after the Queen had been deposed, and when the Provisional Government was in control of the situation, American marines were landed to protect American life and property.

The Provisional Government undertook to negotiate a treaty providing for the annexation of Hawaii to the United States, and a powerful public opinion in the United States sustained the proposition, which would have given to this country a magnificent outpost in the Pacific, the future Malto of the vast ocean, whose waters wash the shores of America, and bear a commerce that is rapidly increasing Benjamin Harrison approved that treaty, but Grover Cleveland recalled and discarded it. He sent a commissioner to Honolulu, armed with authority to haul down the American flag, which the Provisional Government had raised in token of attachment to the American people, and he undoubtedly hoped that this public disavowal of any sympathy for any support of the Provisional Government by the United States would be followed by a counter revolution and the restoration of the Queen. The members of the Provisional Government proved themselves worthy of their trust. They restored the financial credit of Hawaii, damaged by royal extravagance and maladministration. They enforced the laws equitably and effectively and made life and property secure throughout the islands. Nearly every important nation recognized the Provisional Government.

This was an object lesson which Grover Cleveland and Gresham could not tolerate.

The fact that the Provisional Government of Hawaii dared to stand alone was to them as the presence of Mordecai at the King's gate was to Haman, and they resolved to crush the Mordecai, even if the streets of Honolulu should flow with blood as a result. They deliberately resolved to make war upon a peaceful and prosperous nation, under a government which had proven its ability to govern, to restore the dissolute monarchy by the use of the naval forces of the United States and to reduce to the degrading position of subjects of that monarchy men of American descent who had nobly vindicated their title to be free. Well the conspirators knew that the revelation of their plans before the late elections would mean ruin for their party. In order to prevent that revelation Cleveland deliberately withheld from the Congress then in session the information to which it was entitled, and usurped the power to declare war, received by the Constitution to Congress alone. An admiral was detailed to Hawaii whose brother is interested in the restoration of the licentious Queen, and the Minister sent with a public greeting of pretended friendship, and a secret mission of hostility, was instructed not to act until after the departure of the steamer which conveyed him to Honolulu, in order that the American people might be kept in ignorance as long as possible of the attempted or consummated outrage against humanity, against the American Constitution, against the traditions of American history, against the independence of the Hawaiian nation and the cause of free government throughout the world.

Such are the facts as revealed. Next weeks Republican may contain further developments of this most shameful conspiracy, in which the chief actor is the President of the United States.

THE SEVENTH DAY ADVENTISTS.

Rev. L. S. Wheeler, whose work in this city is creating no little interest, belongs to the growing and progressive denomination known as Seventh Day Adventists.

They have never set any day, nor even decade, for Christ to come, but like many devoted and scholarly men, as Dr. Pierson who was called to fill Spurgeon's place, D. L. Moody, Dr. Coxe, of the Episcopal church, Dr. Brooks, Dr. Munhall, and Dr. Pentecost, along with thousands of evangelists, and the hosts of Student Volunteers from the colleges and universities of the land who are pledged to carry the gospel to all parts of the world. They believe that the prophecies of the Bible all close in our time and that the present issues both in the religious and political world are fast resolving into the last act in the drama of the world.

This belief is everywhere seen to inspire energy and earnestness of life. It fills life with great meanings and inspirations.

They have missionaries in Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and the islands of the seas.

A missionary ship plies continually upon the waters of the ocean, carrying only missionary literature and missionaries.

They control the largest medical and surgical sanitarium of the world, located at Battle Creek, Michigan, which has rapidly grown up under their care.

They have the largest printing establishment on the Pacific coast, and others, one of which sends forth nearly twenty-five tons of reading matter per week. Also printing houses in Europe and Australia.

They have built up colleges in different parts of this and other lands, and have lately erected a large orphanage and an old peoples' home at Battle Creek, Michigan. These institutions they do not expect to be able to use but a few years, but believe they should make them all help in the great work of the last days.

They are the founders of the International Religious Liberty association, of which James T. Ringgold, Esq., a prominent lawyer of the Baltimore Bar, says: "For my own part I believe that the Seventh Day Adventist church had never done anything else for Christianity or the world than to give birth to the International Religious Liberty Association and follow its principles, they would have done more for humanity than a Newton, a Kepler or a Washington, or any of the greatest men that ever lived; and to entitle them to the gratitude of nations as long as man shall live"—Speech on March 2, 1892.

Their work is as thoroughly organized, and as systematically done as that of any other people.

They believe that spiritually the churches have fallen as the Scriptures foretell,—shown by the fact that the real Christian elements of the churches have to reorganize into Aid Societies, and Christian Endeavor, etc., which takes its place to do its work, and shows that the church is now only the shell, and a "misnomer."

That the government is also disintegrating into Secret Orders, Law and Order Leagues, White Caps, Anarchists, Labor unions and other combinations which are unmistakable evidences of government decay and weakness to exercise its functions the same as the church. That universal trouble must now result.

BY AWARDED HER A VERDICT $3,000.

Young men who are the "steady company" of the young ladies, if their attentions are not serious, should be a "leetle" just a "leetle" bit careful. A jury in New York has just decided that implied engagement to marry goes even if there is no regular declaration, and the Supreme Court says it is law. According to this it is not necessary that the young man should "pop" not even that he should have "asked Popper." In the case referred to the swain had attended her to and from church and prayer meeting for more than two years, and occasionally took her to public entertainments. The farthest he ever went was to say: "If I live I will make you happy" and he did for the jury awarded her a verdict for $3,000.

IS IT EPIDEMIC?

Is Bellefonte In Any Danger From Small-Pox,

Is small-pox becoming epidemic throughout Pennsylvania, with a likelihood of spreading? is a question that is now not only being freely agitated, but is creating deep concern in the minds of the people everywhere. There seems to be enough of it, goodness knows, throughout this commonwealth to make it really alarming. In brief, we don't believe the proper authorities everywhere are showing the proper appreciation of the dangers that naturally are attendant with the existence of such a contagious disease. Here in Bellefonte, so far as the writer knows, there has been absolutely nothing whatever done.

There is no regularly organized Board of Health, and there has been no public precautionary measures taken; nor no private ones, so far as known. Probably, the majority of our people do not know what a hold this disease already has secured in this state. For their satisfaction we publish the following report of the State Board of Health, and trust that the proper authorities here will act before it is too late:

"Secretary Benjamin Lee, of the State Board of Health, stated yesterday that the Board of Health of the city of Reading, Berks county, reports that for the two weeks ending November 20, thirty-two new cases of small-pox occurred in that city, making a total of 642 cases to date, with seventeen deaths. Thirty-six cases were discharged and released during this period from hospital and homes; sixty-six cases were treated at their homes; fifty-nine cases remain under treatment in hospital and homes, and twenty-one houses remain marked as infected. Vaccination is rigidly enforced in the infected district.

Two cases of small-pox are reported at Mechanicsburg Cumberland county; origin stated from Reading. Four cases of small-pox are reported by the Burgess at Middletown Dauphin county, origin unknown. Five cases of small-pox are reported as having occurred in the Homœopathic Hospital at Pittsburg, Allegheny County, origin unknown. One case of small-pox is reported at Allegheny City, Allegheny County, origin unknown. Seven cases of small pox are reported as existing in one family at Altoona, Blair County, origin unknown. Eight cases of small-pox are reported in one family at Fritztown, Berks County, origin supposed from Reading. One case of small-pox is reported at Smithtown, Westmoreland County, the origin of which is unknown."

THE NEW EXPRESS CO'S OEFICE.

The exclusive announcement in Friday's DAILY NEWS of the selection of an agent and an office for the American Express company in this place was a source of great satisfaction to the business men of Bellefonte who have long desired competition in this line. Some people, however, think the office would have been better located up town. To all those we desire to say that it was the wish of the company to locate as centrally in the business part of the town as possible, and they tried hard to secure a suitable room on Allegheny street, but just now, it seemed, there were none to be had. For this reason, the present location, as announced on Friday, was selected which, however, will only be temporary, for the coming winter, probably; and next spring, if a suitable room can be had uptown, the company will likely move the office: The company want their office in a place where everybody can and will go. Where ladies and children can enter with as much freedom as men, for this reason the present location was chosen, and we are certain they could not have gotten a better place.

Their choice for agent also gives universal satisfaction, and we feel certain they have secured a man who is fully capable to handle the immense business the company is sure to have. Mr. Philip Waddle has had years of experience in all branches of the express business; he is courteous and prompt and not afraid to work. We wish for both Mr. Waddle and the new company unbounded success.

SUPT. MALIN SHOOTS QUAIL.

Superintendent W. L. Malin, of the Central Pennsylvania telephone company, returned this morning from York, Pa., with a nice string of ten large quail. Mr. Malin goes once a year to that county to shoot quail. He went this time only on Thursday morning and done his hunting Friday. In all Mr. Malin saw seventeen birds and succeeded in bringing down twelve out of the seventeen. The reason he only brought home ten was that some Tyroner, who evidently had a mouth for quail, stole two off Mr. M's string this morning while that gentleman was eating breakfast at the Ward house. Will don't go hunting very often but when he does, he makes it count.

NOT CORRECT.

Mr. T. C. Bell called at this office this morning and requested the publication of he following regarding the little unpleasantness that occurred between him and one of the councilmen on Monday night.

Mr. Bell says he is very sorry that any trouble occurred, but that the statement of the affair, as published in the Gazette, was false in almost every particular. After the first account was published Mr. Bell went to the publishers and requested a correct version of the affair, which was promised him. But the second account he declares to be fully as false as the first. Mr. Bell says that he does not care to call the attention of the public to the details of this disagreeable affair any further, but he desires every one to know that there is very little truth in the Gazette's garbled statement.

BELLEFONTE WHEELMEN BANQUET.

Friday night was the occasion for a good, jolly time with the Bellefonte Wheelmen, it being the enjoyment of their third annual banquet. It was just about half-past nine o'clock when the club, twenty-four in number, headed by President Mortimer Donohue and Captain Robert F. Hunter, marched into the popular restaurant of Mr. Joseph Cedars, on Allegheny street, and seated themselves around a table loaded down with all the good things obtainable.

At the word from the president every man present fell to with a zeal that betokened the entire destruction of everything placed before them. As is customary at every like occasion at this popular restaurant, the banquet was all that mortal man could desire. The menu was quite lengthy and served in courses and it was a good long hour before the young men had completely filled up, and just as completely emptied the table. At the conclusion of the eating part of the program the young men spent an hour or so cheerfully and wittily responding to toasts at the call of their master, Mr. Robert F. Hunter. It was twelve o'clock before the merriment was entirely exhausted and the gentlemen adjourned to meet again a year hence around their fourth banquet table.

IN OUR STATE.

At Johnstown, Michael Dujeet, adjudged insane and placed in the city prison, was found dead in his cell.

Harry Brosius, son of the post master, has been detected in stealing money from the cash drawer of the Alliance postoffice.

The investigation into the alleged misconduct of deputy marshals at Huntington, W. Va., is over, there not being evidence to sustain the charge.

A New Lisbon jury has found Capt A. R. Bell, editor of the East Liverpool 'Crisis," guilty of shooting William Robinson with intent to wound.

Five masked robbers appeared at the home of Robert Ewing, seven miles north of Wooster, O., and as a result of resisting them Mr. Ewing, who was 70 years old died from the effects of a gun shot wound.

Mrs. Witherow, a witness in the Clarion court, becoming angry at Attorney Hyndman's cross-examination, boxed his ears, scratched his face, pulled his hair and smashed his eye-glasses. She then gave the judge a tongue-lashing, and hurled defiance at bench, bar, witnesses and jurors, and gave notice she would settle with them when she caught them on the street. She was arrested and is in jail.

WILL HAVE WORK TILL SPRING.

On Monday the Cambria Iron company's mechanical department at their works in Johnstown will begin work full time again, but the employes have agreed to accept a 10 per cent. reduction in order to have work until spring, which the company promises to give them. There are about 1,200 men in this department, who, for the past few months, have been working half their time. It is said if they had not accepted this plan this department would have closed down within the next ten days.

FOR DEPUTY SHERIFF.

Last week we announced that Sheriff-elect Condo had made his selection for deputy sheriff, to serve with him for the next three years. Of course, it was only natural that Mr. Condo should have a large number of applications for this appointment and it was then hard to even guess who the fortunate man might be. To-day, however, it looks very much as if the man selected was Mr. Calvin Weaver, of Haines township. Mr. Weaver is a man who can fill the position to perfection and the Sheriff-elect is to be congratulated on his appointment.

—Mr. J. C. Harper returned on Friday morning from the Six Mile run where, he alleged, he had been on a hunting expedition with John Q. Miles and others. Cal. had the story well fixed up, but it won't down. Word received from there yesterday evening stated the entire party spent most of their time hunting around Wolf Rocks for the cave in which the Lewis and Connelly treasure was hidden. This will partly account for the numerous briar scratches on Mr. Harper's hands and also for his report that in all the time they were out they saw but one deer track.

AN ASSURED SUCCESS.

The committee appointed by the Board of Trade Tuesday evening to make arrangements for a banquet to be tendered the officials of the Central Pennsylvania railroad, have visited the business men of the town and received all the encouragement necessary to warrant the assertion that this proper recognition of these public spirited men will take place. There have thus far been no arrangements as to time or place made but it is likely the banquet will be held some time during the second week in December.

—On Tuesday morning Jacob Ripka, while engaged in shingling a shed roof on the farm of Ed. Stump, near Centre Hall, fell from the roof to the ground, landing on his head with the result that he was almost completely scalped. His injuries, which were attended to promptly, are serious but not necessarily fatal.

THREW HIM IN THE OVEN.

The Awful Crime Now Laid At William Tate's Door.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 22.—Ira Sanford Tate, arrested last week at Weltytown for the murder of Russell Tasker at Haydentown, Fayette county, eight years ago and who is now confined in the Uniontown jail, tells of a reign of murder that preceded his awful deed. He claims that the killing of Tasker was in self-defense. He gave himself up to the authorities of Fayette county, but a sister who was dying with consumption and whom he was permitted to visit during his incarceration, advised him to run away. He did so. Returning, he started a store at Weltytown. He owned his brother William a small sum of money. William sued Ira, but lost, so William and another brother, Frank, charged him with the murder. So he claims.

"The strange part of the story is," said the prisoner, "that William's wife left him some time ago and became my housekeeper."

The woman was seen and she told a blood-curdling tale of murder. "My husband," said she, "would abuse me and hold a revolver to my head and warn me not to say anything of his having killed his 15-year old brother." When asked to explain the killing of the boy she said: "My husband secured his father's conviction on a charge of criminal assault, and the old man was sent to the penitentiary for 10 years. Charles, the murdered brother, one day remonstrated against the course William had taken in sending the father to prison. William beat the boy terribly. The next day William, Frank and Charles went to the coke works, near Fairchance, where they were employed. Charles never returned. William confessed that he threw him into a coke oven. He pledged all to secrecy. The boy was reported missing, and it has never been known until now that the boy met with such an awful death."

Decatur Tasker, who was with Russel Tasker on the night when they attacked the house of Tate, was convicted and sentenced to a 10 years' sentence in the Western Penitentiary.

It is also asserted now that the prisoner, Ira Sanford Tate, while a resident of West Virginia nine years ago, caused the death of his young wife by poison for the purposes of faking up with his brother William's wife.

W. S. Byers, a young attorney of this place, has been retained by Ira Tate to defend him at the trial at Uniontown.

COCHRAN FOUND GUILTY.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 22.—Ex-Chief Weigher Henry S. Cochran, for twenty-two years an employe of the Philadelphia min[illegible]ned and found guilty to-day before Judge Butler, in the United States circuit court, of larceny and embezzlement in the taking of $130,000 worth of gold bars from a vault in the mint. The discovery was made when $16,000,000 in gold bars was reweighed on September 4 last, and suspicion was attracted to Cochran by his unexplainable anxiety. He subsequently made a confession and partial restitution. These facts were presented by counsel for the government, who attempted to offset the claim that Cochran was insane by presenting the statement of three physicians who examined him and reported that he was in his right mind.

There was no defense presented by Cochran's counsel, but a number of witnesses were heard, including Superintendent of the Mint Bosbyshell, H. M. Cobb, chief clerk of the mint, and Chief Drummond, of the secret service, so that the facts might be placed on record to Judge Butler in imposing a penalty. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty without leaving the box. Sentence was deferred.

MANY FAMILIES DESTITUTE.

SCRANTON, Pa., November 22.—Mayor Connell has recently been disturbed by reports of great destitution among the poor people of the city and has put his police force at work making a from door to door canvass to discover how many families are in need of the necessities of life. On the south side alone 110 families were found on the verge of starvation and the officers in several instances were compelled to relieve the starving by contributions from their own purse. Citizens are now contributing large sums of money for the starving ones.

TWO DROWNED.

KITTANNING, Pa., November 22.—John Bunk and Jacob Hensel, aged about 19 years each, were drowned at Ford City today. The young men were hunting, and while crossing the river in a boat where the water is twenty feet deep their dog jumped out. In endeavoring to save the animal the boat was capsized and the young men and dog were drowned.

10,000 MEN ARE IDLE.

HAZLETON, Pa., November 22.—Ten thousand coal workers in this region are idle on account of the Lehigh Valley strike. There has been practically no business done on this branch of the road to-day. The Mauch Chunk local passenger train was abandoned this evening. The men are orderly and no trouble is feared.

MAY LIVE TWO MONTHS.

HARTFORD, Conn., November 22.—John White, the Farmington man who was injured in the foot ball game with the Yale seniors on Saturday cannot possibly recover or even improve. His body from the neck down is paralyzed. He is perfectly conscious and rational and is able to take nourishment. His body is absolutely devoid of sensation. The doctors say that the organs of digestion may work automatically, not being dependent on the will, but that the body will ultimately waste away. He may live for a few months.

—Centre Hall does not have even one pauper, therefore needs no poor tax. A lucky town.

—The Millheim post office squabble is still unsettled, and meanwhile the old P. M. draws the salary.

—Thomas Collins, of this place, will build the new reservoir for the city of Altoona for the sum of $158,000. A good bit of money but there will be lots of work to do.

—Next week will be a week of balls. The Undine ball, the ball at State College, the Philipsburg—Bellefonte game of foot ball, the babies' bawl and "After the Ball."

—The ladies of the M. E. church served an elegant turkey dinner and chicken supper in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Thursday, and their efforts were rewarded by liberal patronage.

—The DAILY NEWS goes to press every day promptly at 3 o'clock and gives all the local news up to the hour of going to press. "Fresh news, all the news, and promptness," is our motto.

—Two engines were run off the Central railroad at Mill Hall on Friday. Nobody was hurt and nothing damaged, but it took considerable work to get the ponderous machines back on the track again.

—The Old Fort hotel will be continued with Mrs. Odenkirk as proprietress and Frank Bradford as manager. This is good news as that hostelry is a favorite stopping place for Bellefonte picnic parties.

—Ex-County commissioner John Wolf, of the "lower end" came up to Bellefonte to-day to transact business and greet his friends. Mr. Wolf does not look a day older than he did when he went out of the commissioner's office six years ago.

—The funeral of Mr. Joel Royer occurred at Rebersburg on Thursday and was largely attended by his legion of friends. Mr. Royer was one of the richest men of that community, leaving a fortune of about twenty five thousand dollars, which by will, it is said, he divided equally among about thirty heirs.

—On Thursday afternoon about two o'clock the three months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McNeven, who live near the glass works, died after an illness of only a few hours. The attending physician could give no cause of death. The child was buried this morning in the Catholic cemetery.

—The queerest piece of traveling baggage that has shown up for some time was found in the waiting room of a St. Louis depot Tuesday. Queer noises were found proceeding from a large valise; upon opening it twins three weeks old, were found. They were carefully packed in the valise and a hole cut in it to furnish air for the little ones.

—Who weeps with you when you are sad, who laughs with you when you are glad and smiles with you when you are mad? The editor. Who has to be both kink and wise and never (hardly ever) lies, and when he does creates surprise? The editor. Who owns a heart as well as cheek, is possessed of spirit, proud yet meek, and lives on forty cents a week? The editor.

—On Friday borough engineer D. M. Butts made the survey of Water street, according to instructions of the borough council, and is now hard at work preparing the draft of same. This work he expects to have completed in time that council can meet in special session on Monday evening to complete the arrangements for putting down the boardwalk and grading that thoroughfare from High street to the new depot of the Central Pennsylvania railroad company.

—President Wilbur, of the Lehigh Valley railroad company, has called on Governor Pattison for troops to aid in the protection of the company's property. Thus far no troops have been ordered out, but it is reported that some of the regimental commanders have been requested to be in readiness to respond to a call at any time. The Sheridan cavalry troop, of Tyrone, is spoken of as one most likely to be sent north, if it is found necessary to make a call. Thus far Company B., of this place, has received no word from headquarters.

DEATH OF MRS. MORGAN.

At ten minutes past 4 o'clock Saturday morning Mary, wife of Mr. John Morgan, of East Howard street, breathed her last after a serious illness of only about nine days. Mrs. Morgan came to Bellefonte direct from Ireland now about thirty seven years ago. She was the mother of three children, Ella, married to Mr. Lutz; and who died about five years ago; Mary, wife of R. L. Erhard, of St. Marys, Pa., and Catherine, wife of B. H. Shaeffer, of this place. All her children were with her when she died. Mrs Morgan, who was aged about 65 years, has been in poor health for a long time, being a sufferer from a complication of diseases, but principally dropsy. It was not, however, until last week that she took real bad and was confined to her bed. At times it seemed as if she might recover, but her system was two much exhausted to withstand the strain and she died this morning at the time above stated. Mrs. Morgan was a member of the Episcopal church since early girlhood, a faithful christian lady, a kind and considerate wife and mother. In addition to her two daughters Mrs. Morgan leaves to mourn her death an aged husband.

Mr. John J. Walsh, who for many years filled the responsible position of train dispatcher on the Fall Brook railroad, being located at Jersey Shore, has accepted a similar position with the Central railroad of Pennsylvania and will shortly move to this place, where his headquarters will be in the future.

A NEW NOVEL BY MARK TWAIN.

The most dramatic story ever written by America's greatest humorist. Like several of Mark Twain's stories, it has for its scene a steamboat town on the Mississippi River forty years ago. 'Pudd'n head Wilson," a hard-headed country lawyer, the hero of the story, furnishes much of the fun that one naturally expects to find in a work by the author of "The Innocents Abroad," but he appears in quite another light in the murder trial which forms the thrilling climax of the story. The plot introduces a novel and ingenious employment of science in the detection of crime, and the characters are well drawn and their every action is interesting. THE CENTURY will contain

HORR KEEPS IT UP IN THE TRIBUNE.

While the American people have never seen a time during which they did not have a large array of burning public questions to discuss, there certainly never has been an epoch, since the Revolution, excepting that of 1861, which has given rise to more striking issues than the present. THE TRIBUNE discusses the Silver, Tariff, and Elections questions admirably. That great paper fills a field of its own, and does it well. Readers can subscribe both for THE TRIBUNE and for this paper, if they desire; and the two make an excellent political outfit. THE TRIBUNE'S market reports are superb. Our metropolitan cotemporary deals with national questions with remarkable force, ability and courage. For 50 years it has been a fighter and is no less so now than it ever was. It hits with a good hard stick and seldom misses the mark. It believes that agitation, discussion, and thorough exploring of public questions are the only path, which leads to a patriotic solution of them; and Roswell G Horr's ably-prepared and exhaustive articles in THE TRIBUNE, on the Tariff, Silver, Labor, Wages, etc., will help any citizen to decide right on the issues of the day. It illustrates the news of the day profusely. THE TRIBUNE'S prospectus in another column tells the story more fully. Republicans in this county will do well to subscribe for THE TRIBUNE this year in combination with this paper. An illustrated premium list will be sent by THE TRIBUNE, free, to applicants. Sample copies are also free.

Some time early on Saturday morning burglars entered Reighart & Wilson's general store, at Mineral Point, and carried away about $10 worth of gloves, tobacco, cigars, etc. Entrance was made by breaking in one of the panels in the front door.

The Cambria county jail has been fitted out with new beds for the prisoners. The old iron ones have been removed. The new ones consist merely of a single piece of canvas which is attached to a permanent frame, and are a great improvement over the old ones.

The house of William H. Gordon, in West Taylor township, Cambria county, was burned to the ground about 7 o'clock p. m., November 18. Only a few articles were removed from the building. The house was a two-story frame, with four rooms. The fire was caused by a defective flue. The building was insured for $400 and the household goods for $200.

The Allentown (Mifflin county) correspondent of the Huntingdon Local News says: We learn that one of Brady township's enterprising farmers shipped four cords of bark via Belleville on the K. V. railroad to Reedsville, and from there on the M. and C. road to the North American tannery in Lewistown, a distance of about fourteen miles, and the freight cost him $14—at the rate of $1 a mile. He received $16 for the bark, which left him $2 for hauling the bark eleven miles.

David Hunt, of Jackson township, Cambria county, met with an accident a few days ago that almost put an end to his life. He was working in the woods and while walking along tripped and fell, his arm striking on a cross-cut saw. The saw was lying on a log with the sharp teeth sticking upward, and as he fell with much force the teeth sunk into his wrist, tearing the flesh in an ugly manner. An artery was severed, which caused it to bleed very much, endangering his life before a physician could be summoned.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

—This is the way the musical critic of the Webb City (Mo.) Times describes a pianist: "The soft, sweet tones blended with wild, rollicking bursts in ecstatic measures, dying away again until the room seemed filled with the requium notes of a dying silver Senator. Then the bright, racy measures would chase each other through the profundo, down the crescendo, skip over the staccato, and off again into the fields of bright melody and classic diction."

HEAD AND SHOULDERS ABOVE ALL.

The Hazleton Plain Speaker says: General Hastings will be the Republican nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania next year. This is settled. There were a few others spoken of earlier in the game, but it was only a whisper, and Hastings towers head and shoulders above his competitors in the race, both in physical and popular strength.

IT MIGHT BE.

Hon. P. Gray Meek, editor of the Bellefonte Watchman, is a candidate for the position of Surveyor of the Port in Philadelphia. We would like to see Gray make the "riffle." With him out of Centre county the Republicans would stand a fair show of carrying it.—Huntingdon Globe.

A SEVENTY-TON ENGINE.

One of the locomotives to be used on the Nittany Valley railroad arrived at Mill Hall to-day over the Beech Creek railroad. At Mill Hall the locomotive was transferred to the tracks of the new railroad and passed over the line to Bellefonte. The new engine weighs seventy tons.—Lock Haven Express.

WORK RUNS THE WORLD.

Remember, my son, you have to work, whether you handle a pick or a pen, a wheelbarrow or a set of books; whether you dig a ditch or edit a paper, or write stories, you must work. If you look around you will see that the men who are the most able to live the rest of their days without work are the men who have worked the hardest. Don't be afraid of killing yourself with overwork. More men die who quit at 6 p. m. and don't go home until 2 p. m., than from overwork. Work gives you an appetite for your meals; it lends solidity to your slumbers, and gives a grateful appreciation of a holiday. There are young men who do not work, but the world is not proud of them. It does not know their names, even; it simply speaks of them as "old so-and-so's boys." The great busy world dosen't know that they are here. So find out what you want to be and do, and take off your coat and make a dust in this world. The busier you are the less harm you are apt to get into, the sweeter will be your sleep, the brighter and happier your holidays, and the better satisfied will the world be with you.—Burdette.

FOR BELLEFONTE BOARD OF TRADE.

The advertising of towns, and their facilities for manufacturing purposes in outside publications is questionable, and is not justifiable under any pretext. When a local newspaper is not good enough to herald a town's advantages abroad, there is something wrong with the town. The newspaper is, to a very great extent, what the community makes it; and, by reason of its representative capacity, the community has a measure of responsibility toward it. The people who will not help make a good paper for their town must not complain if they are held in low esteem by the outside world. The home paper, properly supported, not only by advertising patronage, but in a hundred ways of kindness and of service which costs nothing, is always the best possible medium for advertising its locality, because it will be bright, newsy, and will be read by intending settlers and capitalists as a truer index to the town's social and business life than any other printed matter could be.

CUTTING OFF ATTORNEYS' FEES.

Commissioner Lochren has issued an order directing that in the future the disabilities for which a claimant is pensioned must not be mentioned in the pension certificate, and that all applications after a pension is granted will be deemed to be claims for increase. This order is evidently aimed at attorneys, who, under former rulings, were allowed the regular legal fee of $10 in cases where the pensioner established a new disability which did not appear in his first claim. Under the new order no attorney will be permitted to accept more than the legal fee—$2—for prosecuting an increase, no matter what proof has been furnished or what new disablities have been established.

AN $800 OVERCOAT.

Philadelphia Record.

An overcoat that will cost the tidy little fortune of $800 is now being made for a mysterious Individual by a Chestnut street tailor. The tailor does not know who his lavish customer is, and never set eyes on him until he strolled into the store one day recently and ordered the garment, leaving a deposit of $500 as a guarantee of good faith.

The coat is lined with sealskin and the trimmings are of the finest known to the trade. It has huge collar and cuffs, also of sealskin, and the pockets are lined with the costly skin. The rich fur is only about an eighth of an inch long, and is entirely from seal pups.

HAS THE MONEY TO DO IT.

The Reading's treasury will next month be called upon to pay out no less than $1,078,000 for interest, rentals and car trust (interest and principal), as follows: Interest on consolidated mortgage 6 and 7 per cent. bonds, $620.000; interest on car trust notes, $6,000; car trust notes, principal, $30,000; Coal and iron Company's divisional mortgage bonds, $32,000; rentals for the Philadelphia, Germantown and Norristown and Chestnut Hill Railroads, $80,000; car trust notes (payment of which was deferred November 1), $310,000 with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum. The various sums will be paid.

—There is an old soldier up Bald Eagle Valley, who is also a justice of the peace This old soldier has been drawing a pension and for some time past he has been making out his own papers and vouchers and swearing to them himself. A case of the old soldier part of him swearing before the justice of the peace part of him. The department caught on to the racket and suspended his pension, and now the old soldier will have a picnic fixing up the trouble that the justice got him into.

—The attention of the street committee is called to the condition of the pavement in front of the Y. M. C. A. building. It is the worst pavement in this place and endangers the lives and limbs of those passing over it.

DECEMBER FORECASTS.

Irl R. Hicks' Prognostications of Next Month's Weather.

December comes in on the central day of a regular storm period. Being within two days, and next following the center of a Venus equinox on November 29, we are to expect very active disturbances between the first and the fourth. It will grow very warm as the storm conditions develop and move eastward. The barometer will fall to low readings in westerly regions in the beginning of the period, followed by storms of rain, with lightning and thunder to the south, and turning to snow in central and northerly sections. Heavy easterly gales from the Atlantic will blow into the low area as it advances from the west. A sudden and severe cold wave will rush in behind the storms, and by the end of the period—say the 4th to the 6th—the whole country will feel a touch of the wintry blast. It will be prudent to prepare against possible blizzards northward, during the storms of this period. About the 7th and 8th, the cold will moderate, and another storm development will appear in the west and move to the east. The center of this disturbance will hinge on the 8th, or within 15 hours of the time of the new moon. Heavy gales, especially on lakes and seas, with much tendency to southern cyclones and northern blizzards, will be natural and probable. Great cold is almost sure to follow.

About the 12th westerly regions will have changed to warmer, winds in eastern parts will change to easterly and southerly, and renewed storms of rain and snow will advance across the country from west to east during the 12th to 16th. The storms will not clear the continent until after the moon's first quarter on the 16th, but colder, clearing weather will dominate the north and west long before it is felt along the Atlantic. The "weather train" at this and all other periods will pass all stations from west to east on about schedule time, but storms will not be prevailing all the way at the same time—neither will the cold. All sections will get "their portion in due season." The center of reactionary disturbances next after this period will be on and touching the 18th and 19th, about which dates it will turn warmer and renewed storms of rain and snow will result in many places. This is near the center of our winter solstice, and stormy, unsettled weather must be looked for generally, overrunning the usual limits of the regular periods, and intensifying the phenomena during the period.

The storm period beginning about the 22d and reaching to the 26th, promises many winter storms, and many sections will have their supplies of "Christmas snow" greatly replenished during the progress of these storms. The full moon is on the 22d and will hasten the crisis early in the period. The Arctic wave following the storms will have brought very cold weather to much of the country by the night of the 26th. The equinox of Mercury is central with the full moon on the 22d, which fact is almost a guarantee that that heavy sleet will be a characteristic feature of the period. Men of the wires take notice! Prepare for great cold after the storms. About the 29th and 30th will fall a reaction to, warmer, and the month is apt to close with reactionary storms well to the east, with rising barometer and colder, clearing weather in sight in north and west.

"OUR" BOARD OF TRADE.

How It Passes Every Tuesday Evening.

Owens' Prize Essay.

The Bellefonte Board of Trade met on Tuesday evening and was called to order by President James Harris. Clement Dale, Esq., not being able to act as secretary, Chas. R. Kurtz was chosen to perform that duty.

Mr. Kurtz, by request of members, read the list of members who now belong to the Board of Trade, and the number total is eighty-eight.

The Finance committee reported that arrangements had been made with the county janitor to have the arbitration room in general condition for the regular weekly meetings, for the sum of one dollar per night.

Col. William Shortlidge, chairman of the committee of arrangements on the banquet to be tendered the officials of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, said that the date for that event had been fixed on December 21st. The committee feels very much encouraged by the liberality with which the citizens of Bellefonte and members of the Board have responded to the application for financial help.

The publication committee presented a bill of $11 for printing eleven thousand envelopes. The committee also reported having placed the order for the printing of the constitution and by laws of the organization.

Col. William Shortlidge brought to the attention of the Board of Trade the matter of the boardwalk on Water street. Several speeches were made on the subject and they were all very emphatically in favor of demanding of council the building of that boardwalk. After considerable discussion Mr. Shortlidge made a motion that the Board of Trade request the council to build the boardwalk on West side of Water street and that a committee be appointed to convey this request to council. The motion was seconded by Mr. Buck, put and carried. The president appointed as a committee Messrs. Hammond Seebler and H. B. Pontius.

Mr. Hunter made a motion that a permanent Secretary be employed at a fixed salary, for a period of one year. Seconded by Mr. Bush. The motion was put and carried. Several other questions were discussed and then they run out of "business." President Harris asked if anyone had anything to suggest for "the good of the order." This was a sticker. Everybody sung dumb. As there was nothing to do, or nothing to suggest adjournment followed.

Last week we published the "prize essay" of F. Potts Green, and to-day we publish that of Mr. Albert Owens. It is, in full, as follows:

ALBERT OWENS' PRIZE ESSAY.

When an intelligent American looks about for a new location for some industrial pursuit, enterprise, or for residence, he very properly inquires into the capabilities of the place as a business centre, the greatest combination of its natural resources, its agricultural, mineral and manufacturing opportunities and its climatic conditions.

All experience teaches that in localities where a diversity of enterprises are pursued, each becomes a mutual support to all the others; the social condition of the people is more elevated and progressive; education is promoted; the rights of persons and property are recognized; the laws are executed and the greatest measure of tranquility and pubilc safety insured.

How far Bellefonte for a business centre with its surroundings will offer the conditions above stated is the object of this circular letter.

Centre county has the greatest area of any county in the state of Pennsylvania. Situated on the east side of the Alleghenies, it is sheltered from the violence of western blizzards, and the Atlantic storms spend their force before reaching its favored locality.

Bellefonte, the county seat, is centrally located in the county, 744 feet above sea-level and is free from all malarial influences. The town is built on the same number of hills accorded to Ancient Rome. At the feet of these seven hills meet the clear waters of Buffalo Run, Spring Creek and Logan Branch, which furnish ample water power for extensive factories. "The Beautiful Fountain," situated a few hundred feet above the present Union depot, which furnishes the water supply of the town has a uniform flow estimated at 14,600 gallons per minute. Its crystal waters come forth from the deep rock formations undisturbed by any surface drainage.

Four railway lines with twelve passenger trains arriving and departing daily enter the Union depot. A new competing line is now on the eve of completion, promising increased advantages in freight and passenger traffic.

Our county is eminently an agricultural section of the state, both in fertility of soil and in the variety of its products. The hillsides and mountain slopes afford opportunities for healthy stock raising, not yet appreciated by the tillers of the soil.

MINERALS:—Iron, coal, lime, cement, fire clays and building stone are the chief mineral resources. The iron ore deposits have been classified in the recent geological survey into seven groups: A, the Bellefonte and Nittany valley group; B, the Jackson valley group; C, the Hublersburg group; D, the Buffalo Run group; E, the Barrens group; F, the Penna. Furnace and College group; and G, the Penns valley group. The brown hematite and pipe ores of the above named groups do not include the Bald Eagle Ridge seam or bed which extends the entire length of the mountain.

COAL:—The Snow Shoe coal basin and a part of the Moshannon field are within the county and are reached by two competing lines of railroad.

LIME:—The excellent quality of the Bellefonte lime has been long established and the shipments abroad are steadily increasing. The Logan Cement, manufactured near our town, shares with the quick-lime a good reputation and trade.

BUILDING STONE:—High up on the first axis line of the Alleghenies, is found inexhaustable quarries of white sand stone, which cleaves freely under the hammer and chisel, and which is well suited to first-class masonry, as may be seen in the residence of ex-Governor Curtin, in the German Reformed church, the new Catholic church and the North Ward school building. Lower down the mountain side is quarried brown stone as seen in the Presbyterian church. And still below this is found the olive green and brown stone as may be seen in the residence of the late Ed. Blanchard, on High street, and in the Presbyterian Chapel. The very abundant lime stone quarries within the corporation limits and elsewhere are seen in the solid but older residences of the town.

ESTABLISHED INDUSTRIES:—Two furnaces, with the capacity of 100 tons each; two rolling mills, nail works, glass works, chain works, two planing mills and three first-class flouring mills are among the established industries.

The well built business blocks, hotels, public school buildings, churches and the comfortable private residences will not fail to attract the attention of visitors to the place. Such is a brief outline of Bellefonte and its surroundings to which the Board of Trade invites the attention of enterprise and good citizenship; and to all such we will give our prompt and hospitable attention.

An Officer's Battle

He Might Have Lost But for Assistance

How It Was Given, and the Inevitable Result.

An officer connected with the Tacony Station house, Philadelphia, has had a severe battle with a monster, or a demon, he hardly knows which to call it. We will let him tell the story in his own words:

"I Want to Say a Word

about what Hood's Sarsaparilla did for me. I was troubled the worst way with dyspepsia. Why, I could not eat anything at breakfast without distress, and when I did manage to eat a little it would all come up again. I tried almost everything I heard of to find relief, but still I suffered. At last I was told just how I felt and what Hood's Sarsaparilla would do for me by an advertisement in a paper. I decided to try the medicine, and realized all the benefit promised. It was what Hood's Sarsaparilla actually did for me that

Convinced me of its Merit

I cannot praise it enough. I can eat heartily now, although two months ago I did not know what it was to keep anything on my stomach.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Besides being cured of dyspepsia, I have been relieved of severe pains in the kidneys. I am willing this should be used to tell others how to be cured of dyspepsia." OFFICER EUGENE CHRISTINE, Tacony Station House, Tacony, Philadelphia.

The Bridge Of Sighs.

It Was Dreaded More Than Death.

THEY WHO CROSSED IT NEVER RETURNED TO THE SUNLIGHT.

What Connection Has It With the Present Generation?

The celebrated Bridge of Sighs has always been looked upon as the acme of suffering and misery. With what a feeling of horror we think of the thousands of victims who have crossed it never to return. But there is another bridge, almost as old as the world itself, and which is as prolific suffering today as in the early ages. There is a bridge connecting health and disease which has caused more sighs in the history of the world than any structure built by the hand of man. It is a subject for universal sadness when we think how many are daily crossing this bridge. Can we return, or must we leave the sunlight of health forever behind us? This is indeed a fearfully important question. This query interests us as it interested a young lady of our acquaintance named Miss Jessie McVey, who resides in Irvington, Ind.

"I had always been rather robust and well," she said, "until the last two or three years, when it so happened that I overtaxed my strength in trying to do too much work. I had a spell of nervous prostration and was so weak all the time I could scarcely get around.

"I have also been troubled with rheumatism more or less for a long time, which grew worse after my nerves became weak. Of a morning I would feel more tired than when I went to bed, and on going upstairs I would give clear out by the time I reached the top, and my heart would flutter and feel as though it was up in my throat

"My head also troubled me a great deal. My face would flush up in a moment and my eyes would burn and hurt and my head would feel as though it would burst; at the same time my feet and hands would be cold. I was also troubled with catarrh for several years.

MISS JESSIE McVEY.

"I got medicine from several doctors, but it seemed as though it helped me some at the first, but in a little while I would feel as bad, if not worse than ever. I began to be discouraged when I saw an advertisement of how Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy helped others who were worse off than I was, and I concluded to give it a trial. Before taking half a bottle I began to feel better. I did not feel so tired and nervous. My head felt better and my appetite improved. I have taken three bottles and keep on improving. I think this wonderful medicine cannot be praised highly enough, for it makes the weak strong and the old feel young again."

Thanks to this remarkable medicine, they who have strayed from the paths of health and started to cross that perilous bridge leading to fatal disease, may return to the bright sunlight of a happy life, free from the sighs and sorrows of suffering.

The world is filled with sickness and suffering, with persons who are in need of just such such a valuable medicine as Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

If you are troubled with nervousness headache, palpitation, stomach, liver or kidney complaints, all of which indicate a more or less exhausted condition of the nervous system and disordered state of the blood, take this remedy which is purely vegetable and harmless and which has been made famous by so many remarkable cures and by healing the sick and suffering all over the land. It has entered thousands of homes where the occupants, stricken with disease, worn out with care and bowed down with sorrow, hardly know where to turn next for a helping hand, and it has raised up the sick, strengthened the weary watcher and brought happiness to all, and has indeed transformed the mournful, sorrowful abode of disease into a happy, healthy home.

Dr. Greene, the great specialist in curing all nervous and chronic diseases, can be consulted at his office, 35 W. 14th Street. New York, free of charge, personally or by letter.

AN IMPRACTICABLE SCHEME.

An exchange says; For some time past an expert on forestry employed by a big land company, has been examining the barren hills of Cameron, Clinton, Elk and Clearfield counties as to the feasibility of reforesting them with pine from the seed. According to the expert it will take 100 years from the time the seed was planted before the timber would be of marketable size. Figuring on this basis the expert declares that the scheme would be profitable but for one thing—forest fires. There is no way to prevent the latter, and so the project is declared impracticable.

Go tell it, ye breezes, from desert to sea,
The "Prescription" has triumphed, fair woman is free!

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the one princely remedy above all others! Made expressly for women, it is adapted to her special needs, and fulfills every requirement.

No condition so critical as to defy it!
No emergency so great as to baffle it!
As a woman's restorative and regulator, the "Favorite Prescription" is master of the situation. Positively guaranteed to give satisfaction in all cases, or money paid for it returned. The only medicine for women sold on trial!

SHOOTING IRONS AND FENCES.

We clip the two following items of interest from the Karthaus Times:

William Askey had Captain Bogert arrested for shooting a deer in the river. If Mr. Bogert shot it in the river, it is no more than any one else would have done had the chance been given them to do so. We do not think that Mr. Askey would have made information if he had not the courage to face a dishonorable deed himself.

Mr. Reser, of Snow Shoe, the man that feeds the hungry, has a farm leased near town. James Pope leased the coal under the farm and opened a bank and laid the fence down to enter, when Mr. Reser put the fence up and sent a man there to plow, but Mr. Pope threatened to shoot if they entered the field. Mr. Reser swore out a warrant against Mr. Pope for making threats and carrying concealed weapons. The constable had quite a foot race before he caught Mr. Pope. When he did he took him before the justice, who bound him over for court. We do not know who holds the ammunition and revolver.

PIGMIES VS. GIANTS.

Lilliputian as they are in size (being no larger than mustard seeds), they achieve results that their Brobdingnagian opponents utterly fail in. We refer to the efficacy of the powerful preparation known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, compared with that of their gigantic competitors, the old style pill. Try the little giants, when dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation billiousness, or any kindred ills assail you, and you'll make no mistake—they'll disappear at once.

BAD NEWS FOR MINERS.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., November 27.—Within the next ten days, perhaps, there will be a general exit of the laboring population of Robertsdale, the principal mining town in the East Broad Top region. The Rockhill Iron and Coal company have notified all employes in that section that a general suspension of work would take place on Friday, December 1, and continue indefinitely. This means the forced idleness of about 300 men and boys, and from information obtained from a well known miner thus affected, many of the idle men will seek employment elsewhere.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

Changes take place in the medical profession as in all branches of science. We believe the greatest good will follow that generous offer made by Dr. Greene of 35 West 14th Street, New York, who invites all persons, far and near, suffering from any form of disease, to write him a description of their complaints, and he will send them, free of charge, a complete explanation of their diseases, with advice how to be cured. He gives most careful and explicit attention to all letters and explains each symptom so carefully that you cannot fail to understand exactly what ails you.

Dr. Greene is our most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He is the discoverer of that famous medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, which is doing such a vast amount of good all over the world. He uses nothing in his practice but harmless vegetable remedies, which can in no manner injure you. This great system of giving consultation and advice through letter correspondence, free of charge, is especially important to the poor and those living at a distance from large cities, as such consultation and advice were formerly attended by great expense. The doctor is having wonderful success in treating the sick through letter correspondence, and if you will write him about your disease it will undoubtedly lead to your cure.

THE ONE SURE THING.

IT IS SURPRISING

and, to a nervous person, somewhat disquieting, to note how many people now-a-days complain of trouble with their Kidneys. Indeed, renal complaints have more than quintupled in a few years past, and have not only increased in number, but in gravity. Of course, so tempting a field for the nostrum venders has not been neglected, and there are many professed cures for all imaginable and imaginary disorders of the Kidneys and Bladder, but the common tendency of those things is to undue stimulation of the organs, causing inflammation, and consequently aggravationg the very complaints they are offered to relieve. The only medicine that can be safely and confidently relied upon to cure is one that has stood the test of thirty years of constant and successful employment in the large private practice of an eminent physician before it was offered to the public at large. That medicine is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Thousands of persons have attested the cures it has effected in their own cases, even in such grave maladies as Stone, Gravel. Diabetes and Bright's Disease.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies, but none did me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me. M. J. Lally. 39 Woodward Ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

After using Ely's Cream Balm two months I was surprised to find that the right nostril, which was closed for over twenty years, was open and free as the other, and can use it now as I could not do for many years. I feel very thankful.—R. H. Cressengham, 275 18th St., Brooklyn.

Men laugh when told that Tobacco injures them, who, if they were honest, would confess to nervous headache, fluttering of the heart, throat disease, disarranged stomach and a general breaking down of their system. Hill's Chloride of Gold Tablets are the only remedy which effects a speedy, permanent cure. All druggists sell them.

NOVEMBER COURT.

Convened Monday Morning. Routine Business Transacted.

The regular term of court convened on Monday with Judges Furst and Riley on the bench. Associate Faulkner came in a little later. Mr. C. M. Bower presented the returns in several administrator's and guardian sales for confirmation, and also asked court to grant a rule for the sale of several other properties.

In the case of Wm. R. Wolf, Mr. Bower asked for a continuance of same, owing to the illness of Mr. Kramer, one of the principal witnesses; granted.

The grand jury was called and sworn with Mr. Charles T. Fryberger, of Philipsburg, as foreman. The court gave the usual instructions and then added, in substance: There are a great many cases brought before the grand jury, such as petty feuds between families where there is bad blood, which never should be allowed to occupy their time. A number of such small cases slip through and then take up the time of the court and put heavy costs on the county, which is entirely unnecessary. Weigh the evidence in such cases carefully before deciding on them. A petition will be presented to you at 2 o'clock Tuesday for a county bridge, and the necessary witnesses have been summoned to appear before you. After a few further preliminary instructions the grand jury retired.

The returns of the county constables were then taken after which the list of traverse jurors were called, most of whom answered to their names. C. M. Bower, Esq., asked that Lewis Price be excused from duty as a juror, as he was foreman of one of the mines at Snow Shoe and could not possibly leave there. He was excused.

Continuance was asked in the case of A. Baum vs. Chas. H. Bradford, owing to the illness of Mr. Bradford's wife and Mr. Royer, an important witness. Request held under advisement.

Mr. C. T. Fryberger was appointed by the court guardian for the minor daughter of Mr. Benjamin Swartz.

W. F. Reeder, Esq., asked continuance in the case of George W. Campbell vs. Mary Campbell, because an important witness, who lives in New York, will not be here.

John B. Linn, Esq., presented the resolutions, prepared by the court, on the death of John Holden Orvis, and asked that the same be entered on the records of the court.

Court then adjourned until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

MONDAY AFTERNOON.

Court convened at 2 o'clock. The petition of John B. Swoope to transfer the license of Dr. Buckingham, of the American House, in Philipsburg to himself, was presented. Mr. Swoope was called and examined. His lease and bond were produced and approved and the transfer made by the Court.

C. M. Bower presented several petitions asking the appointment of appraisors and administrators for different estates.

At five minutes past two the foreman of the Grand Jury made his first report.

Proclamation was made in the estate of W. H. Humes.

In the case of the Commonwealth against Albert Kunes, D. B. Kunes, the prosecutor, asked that the defendant be dischargd, he agreeing to keep the peace. The court discharged him on his own recognizance to keep the peace for one year, he to pay all costs.

In the stabbing case of Geo. Dreher, the prosecutors wished to withdraw, but the Court thought different and appointed W. E. Gray, Esq., to defend the prisoner.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. William Walker, for illegal fishing, his attorney asked that he be discharged, on account of having been lawfully convicted at the August term of court, and secured an arrest of judgment. The court refused and a jury was called. Walker pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25, and costs, and stand committed until sentence was complied with.

Com. vs. H. C. Stewart, for obtaining money on false pretense, Adam Moyer prosecutor. Clement Dale, attorney for defendant, asked a non suit because of an imperfect indictment, but the Court ruled to hear the evidence. Bryson and Love were attorneys for the prosecutor. This case was up once before, but failed to reach a settlement.

The evidence in brief was as follows: Mr. Moyer swore that he had purchased the furniture store and stock of Stewart for $800, and paid him $300 for a hearse, giving him a check for same. After that the maker's of the hearse brought suit against Moyer to recover payment of the same. Judgment was obtained against Moyer and he paid for the hearse. The judgment and costs amounted to $158. On cross-examination Mr. Moyer was asked if Stewart had not told him that the hearse was not entirely payed for. He said he did not.

C. P. Sanford, who made the bill of sale testified that he heard nothing of Stewart owing anything on the hearse.

Mr Swartz testified that Stewart had told him he had sold Moyer a hearse, which was not paid for, and had cheated him out of $300. Commonwealth rested.

Stewart called and testified that at the time he sold his store to Moyer he was in debt to him $900. Mr. Stewart acknowledged that he ought not to have put the hearse in as he only had it on lease. Mr. Stewart's testimony was quite lengthy. The case took up all of Monday afternoon, there being a large number of witnesses to bear on both sides. Mr. Dale made his plea to the jury and was followed by Mr. Love. Judge Furst delivered his charge, the jury retired and Court adjourned until Tuesday morning.

TUESDAY MORNING SESSION.

Court convened promptly at 9 o'clock this morning.

The jury in the case of Com. vs. H. S. Stewart returned a verdict of not guilty and divided the costs between Moyer and Stewart.

Com. vs. Wm. Hall, of Howard township, case f. and b., defendant plead guilty and was given the usual fine of $25, etc.

Com. vs. Andrew Timms, criminal assault. This case was conducted by district attorney Singer, assisted by J. C. Meyer, Esq, for the Commonwealth, and W. E. Gray, Esq., defended the prisoner. The prosecutrix was the 13-year-old daughter of Geo. W. Potter, of Patton township. The case took up most all of the forenoon, the evidence, however, being of such a character as cannot be given here. It was all against Timms. The jury retired abont 11.30 o'clock. The case of Commonwealth vs. Andrew Immel was called and court adjourned until afternoon.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

On the convening of court at 1.45 o'clock the jury in the Timms case reported their finding as guilty in manner and form as indicted.

The case of Com. vs. Samuel Immel came to trial. This was a case of assault and battery brought by Samuel Baney. The offense was committed last July. Mr. Baney was in charge of a lumber yard belonging to Mr. Collier, and Immel had worked for him but had been discharged. Immel hit Baney with a stick. Mr. Baney was very much excited and became mixed up on cross examination. Reuben Collier testified that he was present at the time of the disturbance. He heard Immel make threats but did not see him strike Baney. William Runkle, Esq., who was one of the attorneys for the defense, made his maiden speech in opening the case to the jury. He said this was a case of petty spite and should never be brought into court. That the prosecutor should be made to pay the costs. Immel testified at some length in his own behalf, denying that he had committed any assault. His testimony was corroborated by several witnesses. Meyer made the plea for the defense and Hewes for the commonwealth. The Court charged the jury that all that was at stake was the matter of costs. The jury retired, but soon returned with the verdict of not guilty; the prosecutor to pay two-thirds the costs and the defendant the other one-third. The Court then required Immel to enter into recognizance in the sum of $100 to keep the peace toward Baney for one year.

The next case called was that of the commonwealth against Charles Johnson. There were two indictments, one for larceny and one for jail breaking. The prosecutors in this case were James Parks and John Curry. The articles stolen were a razor and some carpet valued at $15. After all the evidence was in for the commonwealth, which, it must be admitted, was not very strong, E. R. Chambers, Esq., who was conducting the defense, said they were willing to plead guilty to stealing the razor, but denied taking the carpet and haps. The prosecution refused to accept this plea and the case was fully tried and argued. The court in his charge to the jury instructed that they acquit Johnson of larceny of the carpets, but determine as to his guilt of stealing the razor. The jury then retired.

Commonwealth vs. George Zory, assault and battery, Charles Larcen, prosecutor. The evidence in this case was so vague that the Court charged the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

Commonwealth vs. Christ Miller, for furnishing intoxicating liquors. Mary Saxon, the first witness testified to how Miller got the whisky and to seeing him drunk on the night in question. According to the evidence Barney Morrison gave Miller money and Miller bought the whisky at the Bush House. Al. S. Garman testified that Morrison was a man of known intemperate habits. Commonwealth rested. Miller, when called in his own defense, denied getting any liquor for Morrison. At this point court adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

On the opening of court Mr. Meyer asked for a continuance of the civil case against C. C. Cooke. Granted.

On application of his attorney Harry M. Swabb was discharged from the custody of the Sheriff.

The case of Com. vs Christ Miller was then resumed and the following witnesses were examined: James Hale, James Noon, James Schofield, George Schoff, Barney Morrison and William H. Miller, all of whom testified that they did not see Miller and Morrison together and that the former had not given the latter liquor. Clement Dale argued the case for the defense and J. C. Meyer summed up for the Commonwealth, the Court charged the jury and that body retired at 10.30.

A jury in the lunacy case of Sophia Divens was then polled, after which the Grand jury reported that they had completed their findings. The Court instructed them to inspect the county buildings and to give particular attention to the jail to see if it could not be fixed in some way to prevent so much jail breaking.

The civil case of Long vs. Long, one of Assumpsit, brought by Samuel and Jesse Long against Daniel Long, was then taken up. Orvis, Bower & Orvis represented plaintiff and W. C. Heinle the defense. The defendant was charged with using fifteen tons of hay which he had no right to. The total value of the hay was estimated at $85.95. Jesse and Samuel Long testified to the particulars in the case. The attorney for the defense tried hard to get damaging evidence on cross-examination.

Robert Bartges swore that he was present when the contract was made. That there was considerable hay on the farm and that defendant was to leave same amount there when he moved away. Thinks there were about 30 tons when defendant went there and as much when he left. William Schaffer corroborated the testimony of Mr. Bartges, at the conclusion of which court adjourned.

John W. Creech et al. have commenced suit in Akron to forclose a mortgage of $3,630,000 against the Pittsburg, Akron and Western Railway Company.

The Second National Bank, Ironton, has just come into posession of a $5 bill across which is written: "This is the last of a fortune of $38,000 spent foolishly."

Not on this broad continent alone, but in malarial breeding topical regions, in Guatemala, Mexico, South America, the Isthmus of Panama, and elsewhere, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters affords to inhabitants and sojourners protection against malaria. The miner, the freshly arrived immigrant, the tiller of the virgin soil newly robbed of its forests by the axe of the pioneer, find in the superb antifebrile specific a preserver against the poisonous miasma which in vast districts rich in natural resources, is yet fertile in disease. It annihilates disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, fortifies those who use it against rheumatic ailments breed and fostered by outdoor exposure; infuses genial warmth into a frame chilled by a rigorous temperature, and robs of their power to harm morning and evening mists and vapors laden with hurtfulness; strengthens the weak and conquers incipient kidney trouble.

DR. CALDER DEAD.

He Expired at His Home in Harrisburg Thursday Night.

It will be with mingled pain and regret that the people of Centre county will read of the death of Dr. James Calder, which occurred at his home in Harrisburg late Thursday night. Dr. Calder was a man who had many warm friends in Centre county, and especially in Bellefonte and at State College, having lived at the latter place almost ten years.

Rev. James Calder was born in Harrisburg in 1826, thus being about 67 years of age. He graduated from the Wesleyan University, of Middletown, Conn., in 1849. After having connected himself with the Philadelphia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, in 1850 he was sent as a missionary to China, and for five years he was stationed at Foo Chow and Hongkong. In 1855 he returned to the United States and was accompanied by Ah Kah, a young Chinaman, the first of his nationality to ever set foot on free American soil, and who is now one of the principal officers of the Chinese government. After his return Dr. Calder lived quietly at Harrisburg for a few years until he was chosen president of Hillsdale College, in Michigan. In 1871 Dr. Calder was chosen president of Pennsylvania State College to succeed Dr. Burrowes, which position he filled until 1880, after which he removed to Harrisburg. Mr. Calder entered upon his duties as President of State College in March, 1871. A marked change in the educational system of the college was introduced soon after Dr. Calder's accession, in the admission of ladies to all the privileges of the institution.

One of the most important events in the history of the college was introduced about that time. It was the re-investment of the trust funds held by the State and the re-organization of the financial system, by which there was a consequent increase of income. Under Dr. Calder's management the College began to flourish. More students were admitted every session, the teaching force was increased and the College began to give promise of the noble institution into which it has now grown under the careful management and direction of Dr. Calder's able successors.

When Dr. Calder resigned the Presidency of the College, in 1880, he removed to Harrisburg, where he has lived ever since. For a number of years he filled the position of lecturer of the State Grange, Patrons of Husbandry. Dr. Calder was much attached to Centre county and took every occasion possible to visit the place in which he spent so many years of his life. His death will be universally lamented by all who knew him, as he was a great and a good man.

HELPING THE POOR.

In another column of the paper will be found a notice of the Needlework League in reference to contributions for the poor. The League held a meeting on Thursday afternoon and made arrangements and appointed the proper persons to receive and distribute anything and everything that might be given for the succor and assistance of those among us who, by the force of circumstances, have not sufficient to properly clothe or feed themselves. All of our neighboring towns have taken steps in this noble work, only the prime leaders in such places are men of prominence and men with money. Here the work has been left for the ladies of the town to do and now that they have come to the front so willingly and so nobly, they should receive the heartiest support of everybody in Bellefonte who is able to contribute even the widow's mite. There are many needy ones among us. Those who are most deserving and would only accept assistance as a matter of necessity. They should be helped and the people of Bellefonte should see to it that the Needlework League is liberally supplied with every manner and kind of contribution.

CHOIR BOYS ENTERTAINED.

Thursday evening the choir boys of the Episcopal church were entertained at the Rectory by the ladies of the same church. The younger boys were there from 6 to 8 o'clock, and the older ones from 8 to 10. There are thirty boys in the choir and the entertainment given them will be remembered as one of the pleasantest occasions in their lives. Only one little incident occurred to disturb the serenity of the affair. The ladies had made thirty or more sandwiches and put them out on the rear porch to get good and cool. When they went to get them, it was found that other than choir boys become hungry, as not a sandwich was left to tell the tale of their disappearance. However, it only necessitated a trip to Sourbeck's for more bread, and the making of more sandwiches, when everything went "merry as a marriage bell." In addition to the sandwiches the boys were served with coffee, ice cream, cake, fruit, nuts, etc.

CANTATA OF JEPHTHA.

At the meeting in the Y. M. C. A. building Thursday evening for the purpose of securing singers for the rendition of the Cantata of "Jephtha" only about eighteen singers were present who were willing to take part. This is only about one-third of the number necessary for a successful rendition of this beautiful story. Others who are willing to assist should send in their names promptly to the Y. M. C. A.

—The family of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Swaler, of near town, was decreased one more in number last Friday, when Guy, an eight-year-old son died of scarlet fever. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon. Out of a family of seven children four have died of the fever, three boys and one girl. The three surviving children are about well and are the only ones left the parents out of seven. The parents have the sympathy of the community in their sad trials.—Clearfield Republican.

MR PHILIP WADDLE.

Appointed Agent for the American Express Company.

Mr. J. B. Prentiss, of Rochester, N. Y., division superintendent of the American Express Company, and Mr. I. D. Vandenberg, of Geneva, N. Y., route agent for the company, were in Bellefonte Friday completing arrangements for the opening of an office in this place in the near future. The gentlemen have made all arrangements and the office will be open for the receiving and sending of express matter on Monday, December 4th. The office will be located in George T. Bush's stationery store, on High street. Mr. Bush will move all his goods to one side of the store and the American Express company will occupy the other side. This is a most desirable location. It is near the business part of the town and convenient of access.

The company has appointed Mr. Philip Waddle agent for Bellefonte, and by this the public can see that it is the intention to give them a thorough and reliable service. We cangratulate Mr. Waddle on his appointment, the more so as it come unsought, he not even being an applicant, and the American Express Company is to be congratulated on getting so thoroughly capable a man to handle their business in this place.

SILVER AND BANKS.

A few days ago a couple of gentlemen' of whom 'Squire Bierly was one, were talking upon the silver question. Mr. Bierly contended that we needed silver as money, because we had not enough currency per capita and could not get it under a gold basis. The other man contended that we did not need as much money in this country, because most of the business of this country was done by checks. There is England, for instance; they have only one great bank, while we have one or more banks in every town of any importance. Mr. Bierly, not having data at hand, did not reply to this argument. A day or two after we saw the following in the Chicago Herald:

"Probably in no other country in the world are banking facilities so extensive as they are in Scotland. In every town, large or small, there is a branch of one or more of the great city banks, and even every village with least pretension to size can boast of one. While in England there is a bank or a branch bank to about every 10,000 of the population, in Scotland there is one to about every 4000."

Now the man talking to Mr. Bierly is one of the brightest men in Centre county. This shows how little this silver question is understood by the best of men.

NOVEMBER DAYS.

November is a month of rainy, disagreeable days. The damp cold air penetrates everywhere and chills the blood, laying the system open to the danger of colds, pneumonia and kindred complaints. There is but one remedy that stimulates the system and fortifies it against such attacks, and that is whiskey. Not such a whiskey as is generally palmed off on the public, but a whiskey of known purity and quality. Such a whiskey is Klein's Silver Age, Duquesne or Bear Creek Rye. These whiskies have been before the public for many years and find favor wherever purity is required. Physicians prescribe them; hospitals use them, and every reputable dealer sells them.

These goods are for sale by S. Shloss, Williamsport, at regular prices.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAINS MERCURY, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physcians, as the prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

Marion Cessna, Son of Hon. John Cessna, Suicides.

BEDFORD, Pa., November 23—In his office on Juliana street, at 2.15 p. m. today, Marion Cessna, son of the Hon. John Cessna, killed himself by firing three shots from a revolver through his heart. Before committing the act he had locked the door of his office. When the door was forced open the wounded man was still alive but unconscious. He expired about ten minutes afterwards. The revolver with which he took his life remained in his hand until taken away by 'Squire Frazier. Deceased was the manager of the Bedford Electric Light, Heat and Power company.

It is supposed that he killed himself in a fit of despondency, caused by ill health and the annoyance connected with his work. The president and secretary of the company both say the books of the firm were in good shape, and that Mr. Cessna has always been honest and trustworthy.

The deceased was in the 37th year of his age and leaves a wife and one son. His wife was formerly a resident of Hollidaysburg, her maiden name being Jennie B. Elliott. His father, the Hon. John Cessna, also survives him, but the shock of the sudden and tragic death of his son may prove fatal to him as he has been ill for some weeks. His mother is also living as are these brothers and sisters—Daniel Cessna, Harry Cessna, Esq., Carrie, wife of Rev. Leighton Gearhart, and Miss Etta Cessna, all being residents of Bedford. The deceased was a man of generous impulses and had many warm friends. He had visited Altoona on several occasions in the interest of the electric light plant of which he was manager.

SHERIFF SALES.

In looking over the list of Sheriff sales in Centre county for this court we find the total of three farms, aggregating 386 acres, and 11 houses and lots, the sole possessions, probably of poor, hard-working laboring men. The above tells its own moral. Hard times and no work crushes the poorer class almost to starvation.

But even yet, Centre countians may be glad they do not live in Huntingdon county. By compiling the properties advertised for sale by Sheriff Oaks we find 14 farms and tracts, with an aggregate of 2,206 acres, and 8 houses and lots that will soon be sacrificed under the Sheriff's hammer. Verily, our neighboring brethren are deserving of pity.

IT WORKED.

An Irish tramp, the other day, being a little dry, stopped in front of the Brant House and cogitated how to get a drink. In meditating over the matter he took a plug of tobacco from his pocket and noticing a tin tag in it an idea struck him. He took the tag and rushed into the bar room where Harry Ryan dispenses the liquid refreshments, called for a glass of beer, drank it and throwing down his tin tag started for the door. When Harry picked it up he called to the tramp saying the change was only tin. The Irishman retorted, "ten, is it, well take a drink for the change" and shot out of the door in a twinkling.

THE CASE FOREVER SETTLED.

The case which Mrs. Maria Meek, of Stormstown, this county, had carried to court against the heirs of George Y. Meek, Dec'd, of Ferguson township, to recover a widow's dowery claimed to have been due her from said estate has been effectually settled by the courts here. It was tried first before a master, who ruled that she had no claim whatever, and when the case was carried to court Judge Furst sustained the ruling, thus leaving Mrs. Meek without any claim whatever on the heirs of G. Y. Meek. E. R. Chambers Esq., was her attorney.—Watchman.

—We do not object to our neighboring exchanges using items from this paper and giving no credit therefore, but we draw the line on them using items and crediting the same to other papers. For instance, some of our county exchanges have been publishing a condensed form of the will of the late Judge Orvis, and crediting the same to the Centre Democrat, when the fact of the matter is that paper never published the item at all. The only papers in Bellefonte which did publish it were the DAILY NEWS and Bellefonte Republican. Our deluded brethren will please take notice.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.
B. M. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

DORRS FERRY, N. Y.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.
Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 42.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was formerly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have mailed four circulars to you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,
MRS. ELLEN MORRISON,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part.
W. L. LOVELADY.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 137. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recomendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

MRS. WM. H. SAGE DEAD.

Governor Curtin's Daughter Expires Suddenly in New York.

The family and friends of our honored townsman, the venerable ex-Governor Andrew G. Curtin, were terribly shocked Wednesday evening to receive a telegram conveying the sad news of the death of Mrs. Jennie Curtin Sage, wife of Mr. William H. Sage, of Ithica, N. Y., and second daughter of Governor and Mrs. Curtin, whose death occurred quite suddenly at the Hotel Plaza, in New York City, Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock, from heart failure.

Mrs. Sage had been in bad health for over a year. Last winter she spent most of the time in the south and during the summer stayed at the famous White Mountain hotel. In September she went to New York and took rooms at the hotel Plaza, where, with her daughter, she has been ever since, taking a course of medical treatment from the best physicians in New York. Although Mrs. Sage was far from being in good health, yet there was not the least fear of death coming so suddenly and her family and friends were entirely unprepared for the announcement of her sudden death on Wednesday.

Mrs. Sage was a magnificent lady. Just in the prime of life and surrounded by a loving family and legions of friends her untimely death will be universally mourned. Like her father, she was possessed of a remarkable memory, full of wit and quick of repartee, she was a woman among a thousand. She was the pride of her family and the ex-Governor's favorite daughter, and her sudden death will be a severe blow to all.

Mrs. Sage leaves a family of four children, one daughter, who was with her when she died, and three sons, all of whom are students at Yale College; these with a loving husband, will sadly mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate mother and loving wife. The body will be taken to Mrs. Sage's home in Ithica, where the funeral took place Saturday afternoon.

MINISTERS' CONFERENCE.

The Ministers' Conference of the Baptist association convened in the Baptist church of Tyrone on Tuesday. After election of officers for the ensuing year, Rev. W. B. Miller as president, and Rev. S. F. Forgeus as secretary, the secretary of the State Mission society, Dr. Conrad, was called on to address the conference.

"The Influence of the Home in Training the Young," was the theme of D. J. R. Strayer.

"The Necessity and Place of Authority in Religion" was discussed by Rev. M. B. Lanning.

"The Source of Authority," was the subject of a paper by Rev. B. F. G. McGee.

"The Channels of Authority," by which it communicates itself to men was the theme of Rev. S F. Forgeus.

An excellent paper on "The Sphere and Work of the School" was read by Rev. W. P. Hile, of Philipsburg. This was followed by two other papers by Rev. W. B. Miller and Rev. J. B. Soule of Milesburg, on "The Text-book and Subject Matter" and "How to Awaken Enthusiasm in Sunday Schools?" Good points were made by all these speakers which the limit of our space forbid us to give our readers.

The evening session of the conference was well attended. In the first address on "How to get hold of the Lesson," Rev. Owen James gave a specimen of his own analytical method of study, which every teacher might adapt to his own use. Rev. G. B. McGee mabe a forceful address on "How to get hold of the Pupils." This was followed by a very interesting talk on "How to Handle the Class," by J. F. Yarnall, of Altoona. After some closing remarks by Rev. W. H. Wilson pastor of the church the convention adjourned, to meet in May, 1894, with the Baptist church of Lockport, Mifflin county.

SUDDEN DEATH AT REBERSBURG.

Mr. Joel Royer, an aged and highly esteemed citizen of Miles township, died suddenly on Monday night at his residence in Rebersburg. He spent the evening in one of the stores and seemed in his usual health and in good spirits. About 10 o'clock he retired and on the following morning about 4 o'clock, his usual time for rising, his lifeless body was found in bed by Mr. Peter Kessler, who resides in the same house. Death was evidently caused by a stroke of palsy and was a great shock to his many friends. He was 83 years old and unmarried. His funeral will take place this morning, when services will be held in the Reformed church, of which he was a member and to which he bequeathed $1000.

—If your friend goes wrong, even grievously wrong, it is base in you to desert him, well says an exchange. Then, more than ever does he need your help, and, on the supposition that he has been your true friend, he is entitled to it. Of course you can neither approve or condone his wrong doing. It may become your painful duty to tell him with the utmost candor what you think of his faults, but never to kick him while everybody else is engaged in the same business. To do that requires no courage—nothing but a little cheap bluster.

—The startling story published a few days ago relative to an attempted assassination of General Superintendent Patton, of the Huntingdon industrial reformatory, by three rebellious prisoners is untrue. No attack on the superintendent or insubordination of inmates took place, and it is believed the story grew out of two cases of knives in an inmate's cell. The correspondent that furnished the item should be given a dose of the law passed by the last session of the legislature.

UNIONVILLE ITEMS.

Two inches of snow fell on Tuesday afternoon and "old Mother Earth" has taken on a mantle of white, and pleasant smiles are seen upon the faces of the "Daniel Boones" of the neighborhood, who will soon be on the track of the bears of the Bald Eagle ridges, and, ere long, they may say the fur that warmed a bear warms a Boone.

Many of the citizens are butchering their porkers and will soon grease their buckwheat cakes.

The burial of Wm. McEwen's wife on Sunday was attended by a large number of relatives and friends. Quick consumption soon did its work. She leaves a husband and two children to mourn their loss.

Mrs. Mary Anna Sponsler of Steelton, near Harrisburg, Pa., spent a few days in this place last week visiting her cousin, Mrs. Cleaver and other friends. She is a daughter of Joseph Wickersham, a well known dairyman and agriculturist of York county, Pa.

CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT STOLEN.

Charles Snyder, who lives in Ferguson township, about two miles west of State College, was in Bellefonte Thursday on important business. It appears that Mr. Snyder's child a daughter named Nancy M., some time ago had put in the Jackson, Crider & Hastings bank the sum of $387.00, and received for the same a certificate of deposit together with the regular statement. The certificate the young lady for safe keeping had placed in a chest, in a room used for the parlor. About two days ago the certificate and statement were stolen and, being unable to recover or find any trace of the same, Mr. Snyder came to Bellefonte to stop payment of same unless presented by him or his dahghter. Having made this arrangement with the bank officials, Mr. Snyder felt considerably relieved, and there is no doubt but what Miss Snyder will now rest easier, as she was greatly worried over the probability of losing the above sum, as that amount is not easily picked up these days.

DIED FROM LOCK-JAW.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., November 22—Charles B. Jackson, 50 years of age died to-day. He had a small sore on one of his fingers which he had injured a few days ago by catching hold of a steer while assisting to put it into a slaughter house near this city. Blood poisoning set in and this was followed by lock-jaw. He was a great sufferer for a few days past, and to day he had several convlusions. The last one was so severe that he died in great agony. He had been in the employ of George Shoemaker, a well known cattle dealer here, for the past twenty three years.

COMERFORD--THOMAS.

A Wedding in High Life at Howard on Wednesday.

Quite a brilliant gathering was assembled in the handsome and spacious parlors of Mr. Bernard Lauth at Howard, at high noon on Wednesday to witness the marriage of Mr. Lauth's granddaughter, Miss Marie Louise Comerford, to Mr. George Theodore Thomas, of Pittsburg.

The parlors were exquisitely decorated with chrysanthemums and potted plants of all kinds, making a fit bower for the consummation of an event of so much importance in the thread of two young lives. While Mr. Lee B. Woodcock, of this place played the introduction to Mendelsohn's grand wedding march Mr. John Thomas, a brother of the groom, and Mr. Benj. Comerford, a brother of the bride, made an aisle with while ribbons through themassembled guests. Mr. Edward Keating and Miss Genevieve Friday, of Pittsburg, led the procession up the aisle and took their positions at either side of the officiating clergyman, Rev. W. H. Christ, of Lock Haven. Next came Miss Rachel Burnside, a dainty little flower girl, who was followed by the bride and groom elect. As they took their places, Rev. Christ proceeded to speak the impressive, yet beautiful, words that made them man and wife. The ceremony over, Miss Burnside scattered flowers down the aisle and the party proceded to the south parlor where the reception was held. An elegant repast was served and the bride and groom departed on the afternoon train for a brief wedding tour, after which they will settle down to married life in the city of of Pittsburg.

The bride was formerly a well known young society woman of this community, but recently has made her home in Pittsburg. She is well known in Bellefonte and has many friends here. The goom is a young man of noble character and is connected with the firm of James B. Scott & Co., metal plate manufacturers, of Pittsburg, Pa. We wish them a long life of great happiness.

JAMES LAURIE BURIED.

The funeral of James Laurie, son of Rev. Dr. Laurie, took place from the Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. The officiating ministers were Revs. Conway, of Mt. Joy; George Elliott and W. A. Houck, of Bellefonte, and Haney, of State College, Rev. Conway making the principal address. A choir composed of Mrs. J. C. Meyer and Miss Lundy, Messrs. Hard P. Harris and J. C. Meyer, with Prof. W. T. Meyer, as organist furnished very appropriate music, singing some of the songs mostly admired by him who then reposed in the casket.

The remains, incased in a neat, black cloth covered casket, looked perfectly natural to the hundreds of friends and acquaintances as they took a last look and farewell ere the body was conveyed to the tomb. The floral tributes were exquisitely handsome and appropriate. A large anchor was the token of the Christian Endeavor Society, of which Mr. Laurie was a most active member. A cross and a profusion of boquets were presented by kind and loving friends. The pall bearers were, Wm. Achenbach, Bowman Weaver, Joseph Montgomery, Robert Irwin, T. Munson and Robert Hunter.

At the conclusion of the services at the church the funeral cortege proceeded to the Union cemetery where interment was made. In the death of James Laurie his family have lost a kind, loving and dutiful son and brother; the various christian organizations a faithful member and co-laborer, and the young people of Bellefonte a companion whose life was a model of Christian work and resignation. He will be greatly missed by all, but there is consolation in the knowledge that he has gone to reap the rewards of a life well lived.

THE FIRST TO PAY.

J. A. Woodcock, District Agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York, this day placed in the hands of Ellis L. Orvis, Esq., the company's check for $35,083.00, being the amount of insurance in full with dividend additions carried in that company by the late Judge Orvis. This claim was paid in full in less than six days from the date proofs of his death were in.

Such promptness is but characteristic of this reliable company.

HE EARNED HIS DOLLAR.

Clell Bamford Wanted Work and was Willing to Do It.

On Thursday quite a novel walking exhibition took place in Bellefonte which, as yet is known to very few people. It occurred in this way. In the morning of that day Mr. Clell Bamford was in Mitch Cunningham's cigar store, on Allegheny street, and made complaint about having no work to do, blaming the democratic administration for this state of affairs. Mr. Cunningham argued that there was lots of work if the people who were complaining would only do it. The result of the controversy was Cunningham told Bamford that he wouldn't work if he had work, and Clell retorted that he should just give him a trial. Cunningham said he should come around at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and he would give him a job at 12½ cents an hour.

According to appointment Bamford made his appearance promptly on time and was requested to go and get five bricks. Bamford did so and Cunningham numbered them from 1 to 5. Then he laid out the plan of work as follows: Bamford was to take four bricks put No. 1 on the corner at Blair's jewelry store; No. 2 at Emil Joseph's residence; No. 3 at the Brockerhoff residence, and No. 4 at the corner at Aikens' music store. Then he was to take brick No. 5 place it where No. 1 was, take No. 1 to No. 2, and so on around the block. He was to make so many trips an hour and was to work until 10 o'clock with one hour off for supper. The proposition of course was ludicrous, but Clell would not be outdone by any one and he accepted the job. Starting as arranged, he made the required number of trips every hour until six o'clock, when he stopped for supper. Instead of taking one hour at this time, Clell only wasted 30 minutes when he was back at work as hard as ever. He kept steady at the business until half-past nine, when he had worked the eight hours, in conformity with the terms of the agreement, at which time he reported at Cunningham's cigar store and was promptly paid his dollar. In all Bamford traveled in the neighborhood of ten miles and proved his assertion that "he would work if he could get something to do."

Road Grading Machinery

The Champion Road Grader has fulfilled all the claims made for its superior capacity. The Supervisors of Union Township purchased one during the spring of 1892, with which they have made the most improved public roads in Centre county. Prior to this year the Supervisors were required to assess six mills road taxes—this year, 1893, they assessed four mills, next year, 1894, they propose to assess three mills road taxes and improve their roads more than they did with six mills road taxes before they purchased their Champion Road Grader from Messrs. McCalmont & Co. Formerly the tax payers had to do the work with shovels and picks, now the horses do the most of the work.

Champion Rock Crusher.

The Champion Rock Crusher has no equal or competitor, when we compare the quantity of stone crushed in one day, seventy to eighty tons, with the power required to operate it—for the proof of which, we refer those interested or who may want to buy a stone crusher to improve their public roads, to the supervisors and tax payers of Walker twp. Centre Co., Pa., as well as to S. D. Tice, a contractor of Howard, and Wallace White, a contractor of Spring township, Centre Co., Pa., who crushes stone for for macadamizing streets and turnpikes.

Champion Road Roller

After your roads and streets are macadamized, the Champion Road Roller, operated by horses, can be used to great advantage in rolling down the loose stone to make the road smooth. Those in want of Road Machinery will promote their own interest by inspecting the above machinery before purchasing.

WILL THERE BE A BOARDWALK.

Action of Council on North Water Street Improvements.

In accordance with the call of the President borough council met in special session Monday evening to hear the report of the Street Committee and Borough Engineer on the proposed improvements of North Water street. Members Williams, Hillibish, Gerberich, Dartt, Miller, Bauer, Garman and Bush were present. President George L. Potter being absent Mr. S. H. Williams was elected President pro tem. Council was called to order at 7.30 and Clerk Isaac Mitchell read the call of the president and Chairman Williams explained the purpose of the meeting. After considerable delay the Street Committee and borough engineer handed in the following report:

BELLEFONTE, PA., Nov. 27, '93.

Report of the Street Committee and Borough Engineer on the question of building a boardwalk along Water Street from High Street to Lamb Street.

The Street Committee and Borough Engineer would respectfully recommend that the boardwalk be built on the east side of Water Street, from High Street to Lamb street, but should the property owners along said street desire to erect same boardwalk along the west side of said street, they shall have the privilege of doing so, giving a guarantee that they will hereafter maintain and repair the same. We would also report that if the Borough would build said boardwalk on the west side of said street, it would have to maintain it at the expense of the borough.

Signed: R. L. DARTT, C. T. GERBERICH, N. BAUER, } Street Com.
D. M. BUTTS, Borough Engineer.

Mr. Butts supplenented his report by drafts showing location and two grades of Water street.

Then came the tug of war. Mr. Garman moved the report be adopted, seconded by Mr. Bush. Mr. Miller objected in very strong terms and Mr. Bush with drew his seconding of Mr. Garman's motion. After considerable quibbling it was moved to lay the report on the table. The motion was seconded, put and lost. It was then moved to adopt the same. This motion was also seconded, put and lost. There being but eight members present, they were equally divided. Messrs. Miller, Williams, Hillibish and Bush were in favor of the borough building the boardwalk, and Messrs. Dartt, Bauer, Garman and Gerberich wanted the property owners on the east side of Water street to build and maintain the same. And thus it went, a regular game of see-saw for fully one hour and forty minutes, trying to adopt a report that had not even been accepted. Finally, when this fact was made plain to them by Clerk Mitchell, and they thoroughly understood that accepting the report did not mean the adoption of same, the report was accepted.

Numerous propositions were then made to help out of the difficulty, but to one and all there semed to be some objection. Finally Mr. James Harris asked whether, if the citizens would put down and maintain the boardwalk, on the west side of the street, they would be privileged to do so. Mr. Miller moved that the citizens be granted that privilege of putting a boardwalk along the west side of Water street, they to guarantee to maintain the same and to be liable for all damages connected therewith. Seconded by Mr. Hillibish. The motion was put and carried, after which council adjourned.

THE NEEDLEWORK LEAGUE.

This organization of Christian ladies of Bellefonte had open doors on Saturday at the W. C. T. U. rooms to receive all manner of contributions, in the shape of clothing and material, for the relief of those really in need of help. The donations, although liberal, were not as great as they should have been. However, there was enough for a good start and Monday afternoon a crowd of ladies met at the rooms and were busy for several hours, sorting and repairing articles of clothing and making new garments. Some few have already been given out. The rooms will be open again next Saturday afternoon, and each succeeding Saturday afternoon, from 4 to 6 o'clock, for the reception of contributions, and on every Monday afternoon the ladies will meet for work. This is Christian charity in the right way and it deserves the help of everybody.

SHOT-LOADED CIGARS.

A few days ago Mr. Hamilton Otto purchased of Mrs. John W. Moore Mr. Moore's double-barrrel shot gun. He was examining the weapon in his cigar store and there appeared to be something about it he could not understand. After considerable figuring around he concluded to put in a cartridge and see if that would make any difference. He put in the cartridge and snapped the barrel. Mr. Otto, however, forgot to pull the hammer back to half-cock and the result was a terriffic explosion, and a full charge of squirrel shot scattered through thousands of cigars. Mr. Otto found out how the gun worked, but it will take him several days yet to pick all the shot out of his cigars.

HAS NO TAX COLLECTOR.

Curtin township has had no tax collector for the past year and, consequently, the state of finances of that township is pretty low. The man who was regularly elected refused to give bond for the faithful performance of the duty and, as he could not be compelled to do so, his official career ended before it begun. The county Commissioners had the court appoint one or two others successively, to whom the duplicates had been sent, but in each case they were returned with thanks. Times are pretty hard in Curtin township and to collect the taxes now will be no easy job.

MR. JOHN WALSH.

In Tuesday's Williamsport Sun its Jersey Shore correspondent has the following:

This morning John Walsh, chief dispatcher for the Fall Brook Railway company, started for Bellefonte to accept the position of division operator and assistant superintendent of the Central Pennsylvania railroad. His scores of friends are pleased to see him accept so prominent a position, yet regret to see him and his excellent family leave our town. Mr. Walsh came here ten years ago at the age of 23 and took charge of the Fall Brook office, and since that time has never left his post of duty. Other telegraph operators have been employed as assistants in the meantime, notably L. P. Vanwert, now working for the Beech Creek, but it remained for John Walsh to stay with our people until he had been offered a very substantial position. Several years ago Mr. Walsh married Miss Bowers, daughter of Joseph Bowers, of this place, and located in what is now known as the Second ward. Last spring the Democrats of that ward nominated him for the three year term for councilman, and, notwithstanding the fact that the ward is close politically and the Republicans had placed against him one of the most prominent and wealthy citizens of the ward, Mr. Walsh was elected by a nice majority. His election was a gain to the progressive young element of the town and his action in council has been such that that element in our town regret his departure. He will assume the duties of his position permanently on the first of December but will not take his family from the town for some time.

As a token of their esteem for John Walsh, the Beech Creek coal crews running regularly between this place and Newberry Junction over the Fall Brook, yesterday came into the office and presented that gentleman with a box of fine cigars and a beautiful meerschaum pipe.

THE LEGAL PROFESSION.

Its Present Status in Centre County—Some Good Lawyers Left.

There is probably not any one set of men as a class or profession that are more maligned and receive less credit than just those who go to make up the legal fraternity. The only commendation they get from the general public is condemnation; the only puffs they get in the newspapers are pertinent paragraphs on their enormous fees, etc. They are looked upon as the poor man's enemy, the rich man's friend, so long as there is a big fee in it, and the vultures that prey upon weak humanity's errors and misfortunes; when to tell the truth about the matter, they are neither one nor the other. As a rule a good lawyer is one of the most conscientious of men. He seeks not to down people but to lift up those who are down. He stands not to crush the down-trodden but as a mediator between man and man, foes, if you please, to appease the wrath of one and help the other upward and onward.

It is true, only too true, that our courts are overcrowded with litigations of a criminal and civil nature, but were it not for the soothing and smoothing influence of the legal profession, the calendar of cases would be three times as long, and it would require almost a constant sitting of court in every county in the state to keep clear the docket.

In retrospect we look back over the history of the Centre county bar and we see there the names of many men of fame and great ability, but the list has dwindled down until now the Centre county bar is made up principally of men of the present generation; young attorneys who have yet to win fame and glory. Not but that they are able and learned, but they have yet to acquire experience. There are the Burnsides, the Blanchards, the Curtins, Dunlops, Petrikens, Wilsons, the Hales, McManus, McCallister, Blair, Hoy, Bush, Alexander, Gray, Yocum, Magee, Orvis, Spangler, Hastings and Gephart, all bright men, either gone beyond recall or dropped from the ranks into a more lercrative business. Of all the lawyers yet left to practice at the Centre county bar Gen. Beaver is by ten years the senior of any of them.

But we do not wish to convey the meaning that there are no good lawyers left, for there are, even if they are yet young in years. There is Beaver & Dale, W. F. Reeder, John G Love, W. E. Gray, D. F. Fortney, Bower & Orvis, J. C. Meyer, C. P. Hewes, John Blanchard, E. R. Chambers, Clement and A. A. Dale, W. J. Sniger, S. D. Ray, and a goodly list of others who are just as good as some of the older members, and give promise of becoming as great in their time as McCallister and others were in their day. Lawyers are generally hard workers and principally men of honor, and next to editors, they are given less credit for their good works than any set of men possible to mention.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Sunday evening the Presbyterian chapel was crowded with a large congregation to hear the memorial service of the Christian Endeavor society held in memory of their two departed members, Messrs. John Rankin and James Laurie. The chapel parlors were beautifully arranged and a large anchor of white flowers was conspicuous just back of the organ.

The services were opened by the choir singing "We'll never say goodbye in Heaven," after which Mr. Robert Irvin, the leader announced hymn No. 101, "Jesus, Saviour, Pilot Me." Mr. Irvin read for the evening's scripture lesson the 4th chapter of 2nd Timothy, and the congregation was led in prayer by Mr. J. W. Gephart. After the song "O, tender and true is the Master's voice," Mr. Irvin made a short address in which he stated that the last time Mr. James Laurie led the Chrisdian Endeavor meeting he had used the same scripture lesson chosen for Sunday evening and his subject was "God's call to us."

Mr. Irvin's impressive remarks were followed by silent prayer after which the choir very softly sang "Nearer My God to Thee." Prayer by Mr. Irvin. James Hughes made a short address in which he referred very feelingly to the time twelve years ago when he and James Laurie were schoolmates. Mr. John Walker led in prayer and was followed with a brief speech by Samuel Taylor. After prayer by Mr. Lester Shaeffer, the congregation sang hymn No. 357, "Not now, but in the coming years," and the meeting closed with the benediction by Rev. Dr. Laurie.

LADIES MUST PAY.

We have been requested to announce that, owing to the heavy expense that will be attached to the same, the management have decided to charge the regular admission fee of 25 cents for ladies to witness the foot ball game between Philipsburg and Bellefonte on Thursday, (Thanksgiving Day). The game, which will be called at 2.30 o'clock, promises to be a good one, as both teams are strong and well-matched. Turn out, now, and give the boys the proper financial encouragement.

A YOUNG FINANCIER.

On Saturday a Lamb street lady sent her young son down town to buy a turkey, giving him $1.10 to pay for the same. The lad bought the turkey and started home. On his way out he met a man who asked him what he would take for the fowl. The boy promptly replied $1.50. A bargain was struck, the boy sold the turkey got his $1.50 bought another turkey for $1.10, and went home wiser and forty cents richer. That's financiering.

THE C. R. R. OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Will Not be Opened for Passenger Traffic Before December 15th.

For the benefit of those who may have seen it we republish the following item from the Lock Haven Express:

"A telephone message to the Express from Mill Hall, states that on Thanksgiving Day a passenger train will be run over the Central Pennsylvania railroad from Mill Hall to Bellefonte. A free pass will be given to one member of each family living along the line of the road and at Bellefonte a free dinner will be served to the excursionists."

On being shown the above and asked how much truth there was in it Superintendent J. W. Gephart stated emphatically that there was not one word of it correct. The company intends running no excursion as above stated. Furthermore Mr. Gephart said that he intended sending out notices to the papers and other railroads that the Central railroad of Pennsylvania would not be opened for regular passenger traffic before but that beginning next week freight would be handled in an irregular way until the middle of the coming month when the regular schedule of all trains could be established.

This state of affairs has been brought about principally because of the recent bad weather interfering with the progress of the work. Also, several accidents have happened to the company's rolling stock and it will require some time to get the same put in good repair. It is not the intention of the company to allow the public to start their road prematurely, or before they are ready. They want everything in good condition, so that there will be no possibility of accidents happening. For this reason, it was deemed best to postpone the regular opening a few days and give ample time to have everything in first-class shape.

TIME.

No wonder Time is always represented as haggard and worn out; the watch beats time; the sprinter beats time; the bandmaster beats time; the clock strikes time; trains run on time; horses run against time; cars run behind time; people threaten awful things if they get time; at a fight they always call time; soldiers mark time; only criminals serve time; few save or spare time; and everybody now and then tries to kill time.

REFUSED A PENSION.

W. H. Taylor, of Spring township, who was in the 49th Pennsylvania Volunteers from the beginning to the end of the war, recently applied for a pension, his disability being the total loss of an eye. Under the present ruling of the pension department the loss of an eye is not a disability on which a pension can be granted, and Mr. Taylor's application was therefore refused.
